Jap Fleet Quits Solomons Battle Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Navy Knox said this afternoon that "We are still in Guadalcanal, occupying every inch of ground we ever controlled."

Simultaneously, he told a press conference that the Japanese fleet "has retired from the scene" of the Solomons Islands battle, with some of the Japanese men-of-war returning to their bases.

Launch Freighter

VANCOUVER (CP)—The S. La Traite, another of the freighters being constructed in west coast shipyards, today was sent down the ways after a christening by Mrs. S. E. ### Questions of Traffic Postpone Dimout Inspector George A. Hood of the Motor Vehicle Branch, B.C. Police, was in Seattle today to discuss with American authorities questions of dimout traffic regulations which have been responsible for postponing the date on which the dimout will come into effect.

In announcing the postponement of the dimout, originally scheduled for Nov. 2, W. C. Mainwaring of Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, said:

"It is deemed essential that we prepare our regulations covering the operation of vehicular traffic in the dimout areas to conform with those of the United States. Officials on the American side of the line have not yet decided upon their procedure and we are having difficulty in some directions in this regard. It is expected that we will announce the dimout date within the next few days, together with full regulations."

U.S. Awaits Great Jap Fleet At Solomons

Jap Meets Marine—Landing Party's Over

This is as far as one Jap landing party got on Guadalcanal Island. Marines count their toll of enemy soldiers after they annihilated one invasion force with the aid of fliers who blasted ships and landing boats. Early repulses like this, however, haven't prevented the Japs from putting men and guns ashore in their full-scale attempt to wrest this Solomons foothold from the United States. ### First Aid for First Casualties in Egypt

First casualties of the British offensive against Rommel's forces were among the men of the Highland Division, shown above in this picture radioed from Cairo. A wounded man receives a drink from a member of the Royal Army Medical Corps as others await treatment at this advance field dressing station near the front. Dispatches report heavy casualties in the growing battle.

Marines Repulse Attacks By Land On Guadalcanal

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stubbornly battering back more Japanese attacks, United States troops hung grimly to their prized Guadalcanal airfield today as an ominous lull seemed to envelop operations of the immense enemy war fleet in the southwestern Pacific.

A terrific Nipponese naval onslaught in the Solomons area was expected to break shortly against admittedly inferior numbers of United States warships, but meanwhile Allied airpower lashed out at enemy vessels, planes, troops and installations over the wide battle front.

The navy reported Thursday that the American marines and army troops on Guadalcanal had broken up three additional Japan-

Soviets Repulse Drive By Tanks; Mass for Winter

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP)—Red army tanks won a battle of armored forces to maintain Stalingrad's defence lines and Soviet troops regained another height in the west Caucasus, but numerically superior invaders compelled a retreat in the Natchik sector for the second successive day, the Russians said today.

Sixteen tanks of a German assault force were declared destroyed by tread-tracked Soviet machines barring their way in a Stalingrad factory area, and the others withdrew, the noon communique said.

Although a German detachment drove up 50 to 100 yards to the edge of a factory ground during a costly assault by a tank-supported infantry division Thursday and fierce fighting continued in this 67th day of the siege, it was announced that "all attacks were repulsed and Soviet troops are firmly holding their positions."

"Northwest of Stalingrad," the communique said, "a Soviet unit broke through the enemy defences. Engaging the enemy with hand grenades and in hand-to-hand fighting, they killed 130 of the enemy and captured an ammunition dump, as well as other booty."

(The German high command said today the battle for Stalingrad continued with ground assaults, supported by dive-bombers, adding that an area previously captured was mopped up.)

(Russian counterattacks in the Tuapse area on the Black Sea, the high command claimed, had been repulsed.)

Views Blitz Wreckage

Accompanied by a Civil Defence officer, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt inspected bombed ruins in the City of London, Views like this are not Mrs. Roosevelt's only experience with aerial warfare, for she has experienced an air raid since her arrival in London. While she was speaking to women training for Britain's A.T.S. the sirens wailed and bombs fell less than six miles away.

One Bond a Family For Victoria Quota

To put the Third Victory Loan over the top in Victoria every average family in the city must subscribe to at least one more Victory bond. Requirement to make up the objective now stands at $789,650. However, with more than $7,500,000 subscribed to date and another week of canvass remaining, National War Finance officials are confident that the required amount will be forthcoming.

The whole island division requires $2,000,000 before it can declare its quota reached, but returns from up-island are maintaining a steady flow and it is expected that pennants for over-subscription will be flying from Victoria to Campbell River before the end of next week.

Official standings at noon today were: Victoria $7,740,350, Oak Bay $760,200, Esquimalt $304,000, Saanich-Gulf Islands 443,500, Nanaimo $371,900, Alberni $367,200, Cowichan-Duncan 442,500, Courtenay-Comox $226,500, total $10,656,550.

The Hindu interest in Dominion securities was demonstrated earlier in the campaign by the subscription at Duncan of $10,000 by the Mayo Timber Company and $10,000 personal subscription by Mayo Singh. Corporation and industrial subscriptions which have helped to make progress outstanding include $24,000 from the Anglican synod, $50,000 from V.M.D., Andrew Sherritt Ltd. $25,000, and Cameron Lumber Company $40,000. Oak Bay municipality has invested $20,000 and Privater Mines $125,000.

Ottawa Tram Co.

Faces Ration Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Electric Railway Co. was charged today in city magistrate's court with illegally purchasing bus tires, with having tires retreaded unnecessarily, and with making false statements in applications for the ration permits.

Island Coal Miners Return to Work

NANAIMO (CP)—Mines of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited here and at Cumberland resumed operations today as 1,250 miners went back to work after a nine-day work stoppage.

Called in protest at the alleged tardiness of the National War Labor Board in announcing its decision on an application of the miners for a wage increase.

Work was resumed while officers of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, reopened negotiations with the board to have the Crow's Nest Pass coal field pay rates brought into effect in Vancouver Island fields.

Miners here and at Cumberland Thursday voted 519 to 410 to return to their jobs pending the outcome of another application to the board for wage increases.

The labor board turned down the miners' first application for a 30 per cent blanket wage increase.

Convoy at Gibraltar?

LONDON (CP)—The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio reported today that 17 Allied merchant ships, three tankers, a transport, two cruisers and a flotilla of submarines had arrived at Gibraltar. (The broadcast did not make clear whether the ships were reported entering or leaving the Mediterranean.)

Ceaseless Air Attacks

British Deeper In Alamein Line

BRITISH ADVANCE IN EGYPT—Shaded portion of map above shows the estimated gains since the offensive was launched a week ago tonight, though the communiqués have not named points reached. Arrows indicate probable spearheads of attack.

By DON WHITEHEAD

CAIRO (AP)—Britain's 8th Army has driven deeper into the Axis El Alamein line defences in conjunction with a ceaseless Allied air offensive taking steadily heavier toll in the enemy's rear, official reports from the front announced today.

At the end of the first week of the offensive to decide the fate of the Mediterranean, however, neither side apparently was ready to throw its main armored forces into the struggle—neither the British to exploit their gains nor the Germans to attempt to plug the menacing gaps in their lines.

Infantry was emphasized in a British communique which dealt mostly with the damaging blows on the Axis from the air and reported the land action in these four sentences:

"During the night of Oct. 28-29 our infantry extended gains in ground formerly held by the enemy. A further number of German prisoners was taken. There were minor engagements with enemy armored troops yesterday on whom casualties were inflicted."

"Fighting continues." Although the British command noted a "slight increase" in enemy air activity, reporting four enemy fighters destroyed in combat, the American airmen said they had again found a reluctance on the part of the Germans to meet them in air battle.

Medium bombers scored direct hits on Axis positions, tanks, motor convoys and other targets in day-long operations.

No enemy fighters rose to challenge them, said a communique from the U.S. army headquarters, and anti-aircraft fire was light.

The British bulletin told of aerial attacks by day and night on Axis airfields and advanced positions.

The announcement indicated British authorities were following the tactics to which they have adhered for the most part in the present campaign, attacking at night and consolidating their gains during the daylight hours.

"A fighter raid on landing grounds in the Matruh area was particularly successful and at least three large grounded aircraft were destroyed and three others damaged," headquarters said. "There was a slight increase in enemy air activity and at least four enemy fighters were destroyed in combat."

British air losses in the entire Mediterranean theatre were listed as one plane.

Headquarters said it had been learned that during a successful attack on an Axis tanker in the central Mediterranean the night of Oct. 28-29 a direct hit was also scored on an enemy merchant vessel.

Map shows Guadalcanal and its strategic relation to New Guinea and Australian mainland bases.

ese assaults on Oct. 27 (Solomons Islands time). The airfield defenders were thrown back by one heavy attack, but countered quickly and regained their positions.

Importance of the airfield, captured by the U.S. marines early in August and desperately sought by the Japanese since, has been evidenced by the almost daily American aerial attacks on nearby enemy bases.

U.S. Planes Batter Jap Artillery

The latest air bombardment announced by the navy struck Japanese gun emplacements on western Guadalcanal, destroying an anti-aircraft battery and an ammunition dump.

At the Japanese base in Rekata Bay in the central Solomons, the U.S. planes set shore installations aflame and destroyed four seaplanes, boosting the toll of Japanese planes to 413 since the campaign started.

A later naval announcement today said American troops on Guadalcanal had destroyed 12 Japanese light tanks in the last week, and that in the last two days torpedo boats had scored a torpedo hit on a Japanese destroyer engaged in reinforcing enemy troops on the island.

On the morning of Oct. 29, enemy bombers attacked the American positions on Guadalcanal, but all their bombs dropped in the water, the navy said, and no damage resulted.

Torpedo Boat Hits Japanese Cruiser

Today's was the second report by the navy of torpedo-boat action in the Solomons battle, a torpedo-boat attack during the night of Oct. 14-15 being credited with a probable hit on a Japanese cruiser.

The 12 tanks mentioned brought to 17 the number destroyed in recent severe fighting on Guadalcanal.

Today's communique did not report details of the action in which the 12 tanks were destroyed, but naval quarters in Washington thought it likely the tanks were used in two recent assaults in which the Japanese have succeeded in piercing the American lines. In both cases counterattacks succeeded almost immediately in throwing back the enemy and restoring the original American positions.

To a reporter's question today whether he had any news on the battle in the Solomons Islands, President Roosevelt said he thought he had nothing which would not help the enemy if it were disclosed.

Truck Racketeer Louis Lepke to Die

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York's highest court decreed today Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, one-time New York city industrial racketeer, must die in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison for a 1936 slaying he is accused of having ordered.

The 45-year-old Lepke, now serving a 44-year-to-life federal sentence for various crimes, was convicted last December in Brooklyn with two henchmen, Emanuel (Mendy) Weiss and Louis Capone, of the murder of Joseph Rosen, Brooklyn candy store owner. The state charged Lepke ordered Rosen's death when he feared the storekeeper would turn informant for Thomas E. Dewey, then Manhattan prosecutor investigating the trucking racket.

The court of appeals also affirmed the first degree murder convictions of Weiss and Capone. William O'Dwyer, King's County district attorney at the time of Lepke's conviction, said President Roosevelt would have to pardon the erstwhile big shot racketeer from his federal sentences, including a 14-year term at Atlanta, Ga., on a narcotics charge, before New York State could take custody of Lepke and remove him to the Sing Sing death house.

Farris on Chlorination

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senator J. W. de B. Farris has been retained as counsel for the Greater Vancouver Water Board to contest before the Supreme Court of Canada the federal government order that Vancouver's water be chlorinated. He said today he had not yet had time to study whether any other question would come up.

Crew of 17 Safe After Ship Sunk off East Canada

MONTREAL (CP)—Survivors of a Canadian merchantman told newspapermen here today how their ship sank in a few minutes, near Canada's north Atlantic approaches, following a big explosion.

The freighter's 17 crewmen were all rescued by an escorting Canadian warship half an hour after they had taken to the boats. They were transferred to an east coast port, where several were given treatment for injuries. All but two who were left in hospital with severe steam burns were flown to Montreal, where they are waiting for new berths.

The freighter, which on a previous voyage was missed by only a few yards by a torpedo which sank a convoy mate, sank in a few minutes following the explosion. However there was time to lower the boats and get all the crew, including the injured, safely off.

TORPEDO NOT SIGHTED

The crew, vigilantly on their guard as a result of the previous experience, saw no sign of a torpedo on this occasion.

"We were naturally keeping an especially sharp lookout," said an officer who has been torpedoed three times in the last 18 months, "but we saw no signs of a torpedo wake or a U-boat. There was a big explosion."

The officer asked that his name not be used and a circle of fellow officers and seamen who had nodded assent to his story, made the same request.

The crewmen think they have charmed lives. They missed the torpedoing on the previous voyage by a few yards, they were all rescued from their own recent experience and the big transport plane which flew them to Montreal Sunday crashed Monday near Dorval, taking the lives of its 16 occupants.

Britain Treating War Captives Well

LONDON (CP)—Britain sticks to the rules and treats her war prisoners well, according to an anonymous former British officer who has worked among Nazi captives in this war.

"She feeds and houses the men properly," he writes in an article in the Daily Herald in which he comments on the position of Canadian and British troops captured during the combined raid on Dieppe and shackled by Germany. "She neither bullies them nor subjects them to any unpleasantness, except the necessary one of keeping them shut up in camps."

"In some camps the prisoners cook their own food, the same as that of their guards, except that, at their own request, they get less meat and more potatoes. The German likes plenty of potatoes."

The writer divided German prisoners held by Britain into categories: The "I'm out of it and glad of it" type; the uncooperative type; "I'm a Nazi and don't you forget it" type; the regular pre-war officer or man.

Authorities seldom have trouble with the first and last groups, he continued. They generally fade away among the mass as soon as they are placed in the compound.

He described most escape attempts as "nuisance" affairs designed to cause trouble to officials and present-day German officers as "calm, and confident," waiting for Hitler to come and release them.

Germans Bar Beer From Dieppe Prisoners

LONDON (CP)—The Belgian Ministry of Information said today that Germans refused to allow food and beer to be given to 900 Canadian and British prisoners captured at Dieppe when their train passed through Marchienne-au-pont, Belgium, Aug. 29.

The ministry said that when news spread through the town the train would stop for 30 minutes, a brewery truck loaded with beer drove up and more than 200 assembled on the platform with food. But distribution was not allowed.

The ministry said the German officer in charge forbade the giving of beer, declaring water was good enough "for those pigs of Englishmen," although the stationmaster pointed out there was insufficient water pressure.

The prisoners gave the "V" and thumbs-up sign as they traveled through Belgium, the ministry added.

Prisoner of Germans

LONDON (CP)—Lord Howard, a captain in the Royal Artillery, is a prisoner of war in Germany, it has been disclosed here. He was wounded at the time of his capture.

Cecil Would Build New League

International Body Postwar Essential

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

LONDON (AP)—Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, chief draftsman of the covenant of the now-sick League of Nations, believes the erection of a new international authority—a real barrier against war—must be the immediate concern of the Allies as soon as this conflict is ended.

"My friends of the left want great economic and social reforms," he told me during a conversation in his London home. "They hold there will be no more war if there is enough reform under way."

"However, this seems to me to be putting the cart before the horse. They cannot convince large numbers of nations to launch out on great reforms forthwith, for reforms must depend on peace."

"We must make the people feel that further war will be prevented. Then the prestige acquired will help get social reforms carried through."

PEACE BASE NEEDED

"This is the great thing nations must consider. We must have supremacy over war in order to get reforms. Unless you can create a secure base for your reforms they will be swept aside in the next convulsion."

He believes that what is left of the League of Nations provides a fine nucleus for a new international organization. At same time, no one has been more outspoken than this world figure in criticism of the short-comings of the league which he helped to create.

At the start of the Chinese-Japanese war, he told me in New York that unless members of the league "pulled up their socks" it would come a cropper. Well, they didn't pull up their socks and the league came a terrific cropper as he had foreseen.

Now he is anxious to help create an organization which will lack the faults of the last. He would use the great marble palace on the shore of Lake Geneva to house a new and better order rather than as a mausoleum for dead hopes.

"Some central international control must be created. I would use such parts of the League of Nations as exist now—the economic and labor sections—as the nucleus of a new organization," he said.

There must be a two-fold organization. First, you must have in the League all the nations, big and little, which you can trust. Then there must be a standing committee, probably comprising the four great powers—British, United States, Russia and China—who maintain peace. It is better to have a small committee than a big one. It is less cumbersome.

MUST WITHOLD ARMS

"When you get real peace you some day will have Germany, Italy and Japan back in the League. But they can't be entrusted with arms for a long time to come."

"The older Germans are adverse to war, but the younger are Hitlerites. We must maintain control in Germany until the new generation can be educated. So far as Italy is concerned, there seems to be a general rejection of Fascism."

"We should get the League functioning with peace. There are a lot of things we can't do without it. For instance, we must feed the hungry peoples and we say we are going to move back into their own countries all those who have been transported by Hitler."

"The peace conference could lay down principles as regards boundaries for instance—and then the League would take over. You can't get just decisions out of the atmosphere of a Versailles conference. The League would provide the right atmosphere."

BOUNDARY PROBLEMS

"It could give good opinions about such great problems as those involved in the boundaries of Poland and Czechoslovakia."

"Plebiscites are no good to settle such issues. Plebiscites always are faked. It is better to leave these questions to an impartial body like the League."

"And we must have the four great powers working in the closest co-operation."

"All the people of good will should consider these things now," said Lord Cecil. "There is a general movement toward an international institution of some sort. In the League we can't permit the guilty to arm. We can't allow another war."

"However, we can't exclude them economically from the League. We mustn't break up Germany. That wouldn't last for an hour."

"The war guilty must be tried, but they must have guarantees of fair treatment. . . . For Hitler and other leaders there must be an international tribunal. They must in some way be removed from society."

He paused, and then added: "Perhaps the Germans themselves will shoot Hitler and the French will guillotine Laval."

Toledo Editor Hero of Desert

CAIRO (AP)—The bravery of John Dun, 50, of Tucson, Ariz., former editor of the Toledo (O.) Times, was the talk of the Western Desert today.

Dun, an American field service ambulance driver, saved 10 wounded men under intense enemy fire and alone brought three to the aid post.

The commanding officer praised Dun for "bravery, unselfish service and devotion to duty."

The three ambulances were mired in the soft sand of the Qattara Depression within sight of the enemy lines. Armored vehicles had tried to haul them out, but could get no traction.

The enemy, meanwhile, had laid down an intense fire. Explosive bullets hit the door beside Dun and machine gun fire riddled the vehicles.

Dun jumped out to carry three patients to safety. As he lifted the first one, an explosive bullet hit the injured man in the stomach and killed him instantly. Dun got the others to a sand-bag shelter and lay there three hours with an Italian prisoner who crawled to the shelter and acted as Dun's orderly.

Finally, tanks arrived and towed the ambulance and one with Dun steering each one and getting his patients to the hospital.

Asks Drew to Tell Were Workers 'Hoarded'

TORONTO (CP)—Harry Hudson, acting manager of the Toronto branch of National Selective Service, said Lt. Col. George A. Drew would be "hoarded" in favor of the country "if he provided the federal government with the name of the industrial plant he has charged was 'hoarding' 2,000 workers."

(In an address at Midland, Ont., Thursday night Mr. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, said that "in many industries working on war contracts on a cost-plus basis, large numbers of workers are being kept on the payroll, though they are not at present needed." He added that "in one Toronto factory alone more than 2,000 workers are being 'hoarded' in this way.")

"There is plenty of use for 2,000 such persons," said Mr. Hudson. "I hope Col. Drew will let us have all the information at his disposal so we can get to work on his complaint."

U.S. Army Orders 1,200 Big Cargo Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Andrew J. Higgins, New Orleans boatbuilder, said today the United States army had awarded him a contract to build 1,200 large cargo airplanes at New Orleans.

Higgins said he could not divulge the type of plane, delivery dates or other details. Production will start as soon as possible.

It was announced that Col. John H. Joutet had resigned as president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, the trade association for the American aircraft manufacturing industry, to become the head of Higgins' aircraft building activities.

San Francisco On Alert 1 Hour

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Bay area underwent an air raid alert of more than one hour today. The all-clear was sounded at 11:38 a.m., P.D.T.

It was the first alert here since July 23, when the bay area was under a 53-minute preliminary warning.

Today residents along the city's beach could hear the throb of motors as planes droned through the high air.

Bay area radio station left the air at 10:43 a.m., followed five minutes later by stations in Sacramento.

Some of the San Francisco grade schools sent their pupils home.

27 Dead, 200 Hurt In Arkansas Gale

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP)—At least 27 persons were killed and more than 200 injured, many critically, when a tornado levelled more than half of this Ozark mountain town late Thursday night.

Several of the injured were so badly hurt that physicians advised against transporting to hospitals.

More than 200 homes and most of the business district were destroyed.

Without hospital facilities, the town of 1,485 was handicapped further by destruction of the only drug store and consequent loss of the only drugs and medical supplies within 30 miles.

Several fires broke out, but all were controlled before they could get a headway in the splintered wreckage.

The electric power plant was destroyed, forcing rescue squads to work on under improvised lighting system, and with flares and electric torches.

Twenty-two bodies were taken to one undertaking parlor alone. Four of the known dead were infants.

The storm apparently was limited to this immediate vicinity, nearby towns reporting only minor atmospheric disturbances.

New Zealanders In Joint Command

LONDON (CP)—A Reuters report from Wellington said today Defence Minister Fred Jones had announced that the New Zealand army in the Pacific has been placed under United States command.

New Zealand air force squadrons were said also to be operating with the Americans in the south Pacific.

(When Gen. Douglas MacArthur was placed under orders from the United Nations last April 19 to prepare to take the offensive against Japan as commander-in-chief of all land, sea and air forces in the southwest Pacific, his headquarters announced that the United States, Australia, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands had agreed on the scope of his command.)

(Although New Zealand was not mentioned in the official announcement, Prime Minister Peter Fraser announced at Wellington immediately that the Dominion's position under MacArthur's command had been settled.)

Nazi Coast Raided

LONDON (CP)—Reuters recorded a DNB broadcast today which reported the R.A.F. was over a German coastal district, Helligoland Bight and occupied continental territory Thursday night.

Francis Ashley Sparks, 60, prominent Victoria educationalist and athlete, passed away Thursday night at the Jubilee Hospital. He had lived at 1073 Monterey Avenue.

Born in Potter's Bar, England, he came to Victoria in 1907 to teach at University School. He remained on the school staff until 1914, when he acquired and became headmaster at his own school, St. Aidan's, at which he taught until 1925.

Mr. Sparks was one of British Columbia's finest cricket and rugby players and represented many of Victoria's representative cricket teams. He kept his connection with rugby after the last war as a referee of note.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Frances; one son, John Ashley, in the 27th A.A. Regiment, also prominent in sports here; two daughters, Patsy and Peggy, at home; three brothers in New York, Sir Ashley Sparks, W. J. Sparks and Vernon Ashley Sparks; two sisters, Mrs. McCandless in New York and Mrs. Notley in England.

Funeral services will be held in Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel, Monday, at 2. Cremation at Royal Oak.

Victory Loan Passes Half Billion Dollars

OTTAWA (CP)—Subscriptions to Canada's Third Victory Loan passed the half-billion dollar mark by close of business Thursday, with total bond sales amounting to $509,980,000, national loan headquarters announced today.

Thursday was the 10th working day of the 18-day campaign, which ends Nov. 7. The comparative total at the 10th day of the Second Victory Loan last February was $468,131,850. However, the comparison is not exact because a few conversion subscriptions were included in last year's early totals.

Subscriptions on Thursday amounted to $51,721,700, or $723,700 above the average sales of the first 10 days of the drive.

Ontario headquarters at Toronto notified the national loan office here of a $15,000,000 subscription received from Mutual Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Waterloo, Ont. This was the largest individual subscription reported today.

During the first half of the 18-day loan period, 36,438 employees of Canadian National Railways and subsidiaries subscribed $3,097,250, said today's statement from headquarters.

This was divided as follows: Employees of the railway $2,960,700; munitions employees $80,900; Trans-Canada Air Lines employees $55,650. Yesterday's return included a purchase of Victory Loan bonds for $10,052,700 by the Canadian National Railways system.

MAJOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

"The general canvass showed a slight increase," the statement said.

Major subscriptions included: Anaconda American Brass Ltd., New Toronto, Ont., $250,000 (this, added to an earlier application, brings the company's total investment to $750,000); Swift Canadian Co. ## Italians Admit British Make Inroads

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts, AP)—The Rome radio today claimed British tanks which "succeeded temporarily in infiltrating into our defence positions" were stopped, with eight destroyed and the remainder damaged in a "brief but violent battle" with Axis armor.

The broadcast followed an Italian high command assertion that Axis forces again had repulsed a British attempt to land seaborne troops behind the Axis line in Egypt Thursday and had beaten off frontal attacks by strong Allied armored units.

The Italians acknowledged that Allied forces attacking on the Alamein front had made some "initial penetrations," but asserted these were promptly halted and described the assaults as "without any result."

The communique said 39 tanks were destroyed by the Axis forces in fierce fighting.

(The British communique issued in Cairo this morning made no reference to any landing such as the Italians claimed.)

Prominent Athlete, Educationalist Dies

Francis Ashley Sparks, 60, prominent Victoria educationalist and athlete, passed away Thursday night at the Jubilee Hospital. He had lived at 1073 Monterey Avenue.

Born in Potter's Bar, England, he came to Victoria in 1907 to teach at University School. He remained on the school staff until 1914, when he acquired and became headmaster at his own school, St. Aidan's, at which he taught until 1925.

Mr. Sparks was one of British Columbia's finest cricket and rugby players and represented many of Victoria's representative cricket teams. He kept his connection with rugby after the last war as a referee of note.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Frances; one son, John Ashley, in the 27th A.A. Regiment, also prominent in sports here; two daughters, Patsy and Peggy, at home; three brothers in New York, Sir Ashley Sparks, W. J. Sparks and Vernon Ashley Sparks; two sisters, Mrs. McCandless in New York and Mrs. Notley in England.

Funeral services will be held in Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel, Monday, at 2. Cremation at Royal Oak.

To Return to Work

NEW YORK (AP)—The first strike in Wall Street's history will end Monday when employees of J. S. Bache & Company, brokerage firm, return to work after a walkout lasting 28 days.

Edward K. Flaherty, organizer for the A.F.L. Federation of Office Employees local, which called the strike, said the dispute involving a wage and hour contract had been certified to the War Labor Board.

He said 150 employees joined the strike and that all had been ordered to return to work Monday.

Air Course at U.B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lt. Col. Gordon M. Shrum announced today that a new course in air navigation, mathematics and signaling will be given students at the University of B.C. who wish to substitute an air force course for army parades. Students must undertake to join the R.C.A.F. in May, 1943.

statement from headquarters. This was divided as follows: Employees of the railway $2,960,700; munitions employees $80,900; Trans-Canada Air Lines employees $55,650. Yesterday's return included a purchase of Victory Loan bonds for $10,052,700 by the Canadian National Railways system.

Labor Order Cuts Job Changing 50%

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. H. McVety, selective service regional superintendent, said today that British Columbia's labor turnover had been slashed 50 per cent since federal job-changing regulations were introduced Sept. 1.

"Regulations have had a restraining influence on both employers and employees. In some industries, the turnover has been cut far more than 50 per cent," Mr. McVety said.

"Things are settling down more quickly than we expected," he said.

The new regulations require both employee and employer to give seven days' notice before either quitting a job or dismissing an employee.

Morrison Says Britain Not Ashamed Of War Effort

LONDON (CP)—Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary, noting "critical shafts directed at Britain from various points of the compass," told a noisy audience here Thursday that there was no need to "apologize to anyone for our three-year part in the war."

The minister, who at first ignored numerous interruptions and then temporarily silenced them with the reminder of the principle of free speech, declared Britain has "made mistakes and suffered ill fortune," but owes no explanations except to herself.

He said a "large proportion of the world was generous with its applause" during the period when Britain was the "only barrier between Hitler and a quick, easy conquest of the greater part of the globe."

"Today it seems a rather different story," he added.

Morrison said the countries which could "fairly claim the right . . . to urge Britain on" were comradely nations whose representatives "have to wait and watch their fellow-countrymen be tortured on the rack of Nazi tyranny."

"They do not make complaints. Perhaps they dwell among us and can see for themselves the effort we are making," he said.

The Home Secretary described Britain as "scouring the last corners" for manpower and production of munitions "at a greater rate in proportion to population than any country, bar none."

In reply to accusations he said had been levelled against Britain of "imperialism and lust for colonial territory," Morrison cited the restoration of Ethiopia to "its own people and its rightful rulers" with the help of British "money, arms and advisers."

Clashes in Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Demonstrators divided on Chile's maintenance of relations with the Axis powers clashed in Santiago streets Thursday night.

Pro-democratic Chileans who called for a break with Rome, Berlin and Tokyo—most of them members of student federation youth movements—were dispersed by police when they attempted to break up a torchlight parade of students, professors and alleged Axis sympathizers opposing a change in Chilean foreign policy.

Subsequently, altercations at a theatre exhibiting German films resulted in injury to five persons. Officers arrested 30 and later released them.

New Evidence Emotions Part Cause Of Gastric Ulcers

CHICAGO (AP)—Unusual evidence that emotions are a factor in the development of ulcers is reported by two physicians who spied on a man's stomach during emotional disturbances.

The study was made on a 56-year-old man who has to be fed through an artificial opening in his stomach—remarkably similar to the way an army doctor a century ago discovered the nature of digestion by looking into a man's stomach through a gun-shot wound that failed to heal completely.

The new observations, confirming the medical belief that the state of one's mind affects the state of one's stomach, are described in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Stewart Wolf, U.S. army captain, and Dr. Harold G. Wolff of New York.

"It appears likely," they concluded, "that the chain of events which begins with anxiety and conflict and their associated over-activity of the stomach, and ends with hemorrhages or perforation, is that which is involved in the natural history of peptic ulcer in human beings."

The physicians took a look at the man's stomach—34 times—and reported that fear, hate, anxiety and similar emotions produce a stomach condition making it possible for acid gastric juices to start an ulcer.

They noticed, for instance, that during such emotions the stomach becomes red from excess blood in the mucus membrane, acid production increases sharply and vigorous contractions begin.

They found also that the stomach's lining was protected from its own secretions by an efficient insulating layer of mucus, enabling most small erosions to heal promptly within a few hours.

The man on whose stomach they spied had drunk scalding hot clam chowder at the age of nine, completely blocking his esophagus, and has been fed since through an opening cut by surgeons.

British Bombers Blast Jap Dromes in Burma

NEW DELHI (CP)—R.A.F. Blenheim bombers blasted runways of two Japanese airdromes in Burma Thursday and returned without loss despite enemy fighter operations, a communiqué said today.

While one formation loosed bombs on the Phakokku airdrome, a larger force raided Schwebo's field and buildings and left fires burning. The bombers were reported to have destroyed one Japanese fighter and damaged others which attempted to interfere at Schwebo.

Letters to Editor

"EVERY DECENT CITIZEN"
As a subscriber to the Third Victory Loan, and as an ordinary "man in the street," I protest the public affront that appears on page 16 of last night's issue of the Times.

It would seem unbelievable that today, when we are fighting with our backs to the wall, any responsible person should suggest that all John Smith needs to do to save his neck is to invest lucratively and keep his mouth shut. It not only condones but actually encourages that appalling lack of responsibility, that lackadaisical, spineless attitude that unhappily characterizes too many of our citizens. It might be a discouraging assignment to have to investigate what proportion of people in this country realize that "blood, sweat and tears" is not just a high-sounding phrase but that it is an actual program applicable to all of us if we are to turn a long series of defeats into victory.

Without questioning the judgment of our high command, intelligent and well-informed persons know from the experience of the last war and of this, that vital issues of strategy are not just left to the high command but are also matters of political decision. It is therefore the very negation of democracy to suggest that, having cast a ballot some years ago, a loyal citizen should thereafter keep his mouth shut, even though he has reason to believe that there are still "appeasers" in high places, and when he realizes that the really valiant and loyal statesmen of our Commonwealth of Nations need the support of public opinion, as our high command needs the backing of loyal and intelligent governments.

The advertisement has been taken by decent citizens as an insult to their intelligence and loyalty. Some public apology or explanation is called for. "Who cares who fights the war?"—every decent citizen.

C. K. MORISON,
2220 Windsor Road, Victoria,
Oct. 29, 1942.

(Editor's Note—The advertisement in question was written and inserted by officials of the National War Finance Committee, and an explanation from that body appeared on the front page of yesterday's issue of the Times.)

Warns of Typhus Danger to Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Conditions in Europe have made it possible for an epidemic of typhus to sweep through Canada, Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate director of the American College of Surgeons, told a wartime conference of the Ontario Hospital and Allied Associations here.

"An epidemic such as the one we suffered in the last war cannot get a quick foothold in Canada and the United States because doctors and nurses are so well organized," he said. "But the danger does exist because of conditions in Europe."

Warning Canadians they must not be lax, Dr. MacEachern said: "There is typhus in Europe now. We must study for epidemic prevention despite our high organization at present."

Dr. Geo. F. Stephens of Montreal, president of the Canadian Hospital Council, warned that Canadian hospitals would cease operation if voluntary help were not received.

"We have to do more with less people," he said. "In Montreal we are placing unskilled workers in our hospitals, even graduates of girls' finishing schools . . . who are willing to do work that is worth while, no matter how menial."

State Socialism
Or Free Enterprise

OTTAWA (CP)—D. G. McKenzie of Winnipeg, president of Canadian Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the board of grain commissioners, said in an address to Ottawa Board of Trade Thursday that one of the many serious problems of the postwar period will be the choice between state socialism and free enterprise.

If the former is chosen, he said, it will mean the end of all the freedoms for which Canada is fighting.

"It would be foolish for us to fail to recognize that certain changes in our economic life are coming," Mr. McKenzie said. "It is our job to see they are constructive and not destructive changes."

Anti-V.D. Campaign Starts in Britain

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Health opened a campaign Thursday to remove the problem of venereal disease from the twilight zone of public discussion.

It asked the co-operation of the press to try to dispel "misguided secrecy" on the subject which, it said, should feel "the full weight of public opinion, as has happened in the Dominions, the United States and the Scandinavian countries."

The ministry disclosed a civilian increase of 50 per cent in venereal cases in Britain during the war years and a 70 per cent nationwide rise with the service infections included.

Eisenhower Called Home for Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the United States army forces in the European theatre, is reported to have been called home for "important consultations" with the high command.

Reliable informants, who asked that they should not be identified in any way, said he would be in the United States "within the week."

Whether his return is connected with the question of opening a second front in Europe was not stated.

The reported trip home is Gen. Eisenhower's first since he was given the top command of all American forces in the European theatre four months ago.

Until 1880 there were 50 different standard times in use in the United States.

Germans Seizing Belgian Laborers

LONDON (CP)—The Belgian government in London protested today against deportation of Belgian workers to Germany, saying it had been confirmed that men between 20 and 40 years old in the Liege region were conscripted for labor within the Reich.

The German decree also provided that women may be deported for forced labor, but it is not known whether this has yet been enforced, the government said.

Addressing the protest to both Allied nations and Berlin, it called the conscriptions "an outrage against international law and human conscience."

"The government denounces the new German crime and appeals for a just punishment."

Freedom HAS A PRICE TAG

THE freedom we want for our children and which we once took for granted, now has its price. We must willingly pay to preserve it as much as enemy peoples are forced to pay to destroy it!

With every day that passes, Canada needs, in addition to the proceeds of taxation, Six Million Dollars to carry her share of the financial burden. There is no evading the issue. Every man and woman must either accept his or her share of responsibility or fail Canada in her hour of greatest need.

What is the measure of this responsibility? To cut out all needless spending, to reduce living expenses to the bare level of decency and to lend every spare dollar to Canada as unhesitatingly as our fighting men are risking their lives.

Is it too much to ask? The money lent remains the lender's, yielding good interest and backed by all the resources of the Dominion. Surely the price of freedom could be no less than this:

Our Neighbor's Elections

REGARDLESS OF THE DIVISIONS OF opinion which characterized American politics before the Japanese literally shot the United States into the war by their attack on Pearl Harbor last December 7, our neighbors will go to the polls next Tuesday as one people to choose the 78th Congress. One third of the Senate's membership of 96 and the whole of the 435 members of the House of Representatives are to be elected. While the Democrats have a substantial working majority in upper and lower chambers, little material change having been effected in the presidential election year of 1940, the experts are busy with speculation as to how the voting strength will be distributed after the ballots have been counted on the night of November 3.

It is important to us in Canada and to the people of the rest of the United Nations that our neighbor's attitude toward the war and its conduct—as it may be influenced by the men and women who are elected to the Congress of the United States next Tuesday—shall undergo no serious political disturbance such as a complete party change in the composition of the Senate and House of Representatives at Washington might produce. To be sure, every aspirant to office vies with his opponent in the vehemence of his demands for an all-out war against the Axis; and although the list contains the names of many who, even a year ago, either were lukewarm to actual participation in the conflict or were openly opposed to intervention under any circumstances—short of an attack on American soil, isolationism as "an instrument of national policy" now appears to have been permanently interred. Voting in the primaries revealed some notable endorsements of candidates who had bitterly assailed President Roosevelt's foreign policy, the tendency being to let the dead past bury its dead.

Mr. Roosevelt still has his critics, within and without the Democratic Party; the Republicans naturally feel that if he would take more of their advice, American contribution to the cause of the United Nations would be considerably increased and victory could be achieved much quicker. It is not within our province to offer any suggestion on this score. Of important concern to the free world, however, would be the prospect of a Congress hostile to the administration. We know what happened at a similar election in 1918, and what followed the choice of Mr. Harding in 1920. All President Wilson's hopes for a new and better world were shattered; whether the present conflict would have burst over the continents if the League of Nations had numbered the United States in its membership is a question that will forever remain unanswered.

Our neighbors, Democrat and Republican alike, now know the part they are required to play in the war—if they are to survive—and the volume and quality of leadership that will be expected of them after the totalitarian tyranny has been destroyed. Irrespective, then, of how the voting goes next Tuesday, there is no doubt present in the average American mind one passage of the memorable speech delivered by Vice-President Wallace last May: "This is a fight between a slave world and a free world." It is for the free world, of which the United States is a substantial and influential part, to make victory sure.

Mr. Eden's 'Offensive'

LAST WEEK BEFORE THE MEMBERS of both Houses of the British Parliament, Field Marshal Smuts, South Africa's Prime Minister, intimated these sentences in his memorable speech:

"The stage is set for the last, the offensive phase. Let me set your minds at rest at once. Final alignments both of the Allies and our enemies have been made. Resources have been developed and mobilized on a very large scale, ours still on the increase, those of the enemy on the decline." The people of the United Nations need not apologize if they read into the foregoing categorical statements from one of the wisest statesmen in the British Commonwealth an indication that something important was afoot. Moreover, human nature being what it is, and the long list of defeats having produced a natural desire to grasp at the slightest indication of a turn in the course of events, it was natural that thoughts of what is euphemistically alluded to as the "second front" surged up afresh.

Now comes another speech, eight days after that of the South African soldier-statesman, and this time it is Foreign Minister Eden who has spoken before a Conservative conference in Glasgow. He said Britain is shifting away from the defensive. That statement, too, especially from a member of the British war cabinet, will probably convey impressions similar to those created by the speech of Field Marshal Smuts.

On the other hand, of course, Mr. Eden's simple reference to a condition, emphasized by the offensive in Egypt and the operations of the R.A.F. over enemy territory, need not necessarily imply new offensive action. Whether such statements as those to which we have alluded are wise is a question not within our province to discuss.

Ship With A History

FOR VICTORIANS WHOSE MEMORIES go back beyond the first Great War, there is interest in the announcement that the U.S. battleship Oregon is being broken up for scrap metal. In the days of holiday excursions to Seattle, when that city was beginning to boom, a visit to the navy vessels in Elliott Bay would be featured. The U.S.S. Oregon was often there and thus is remembered by many Victorians as the first battleship on which they ever set foot, or perhaps ever saw.

And the Oregon was a notable ship; she had made history. When the Maine was destroyed in Havana Harbor on Feb. 15, 1898, the Oregon was at Bremerton. Theodore Roosevelt, who was then assistant Secretary of the Navy, ordered her to join the North Atlantic Squadron by going around South America. She sailed at San Francisco on March 19 and then headed for the long trip around the Horn. On arrival at Rio de Janeiro, it was learned that war had been declared five days previously. Key West was reached on May 27, establishing a record for so long a sea journey. On July 3, the Oregon was able to take a prominent part in the battle of Santiago.

The Oregon's long voyage had a more important result than the strengthening of the navy in the Atlantic. It put an end to all doubts entertained by the American people about the necessity of building the Panama Canal. A direct outcome was the determination of the United States to proceed with speed on this project, and its completion permitted it to become an important factor in the last war—and much more so in the present conflict.

In recent years the Oregon has been moored at Portland, where she has served as a museum. A three-story building is now required to accommodate the war relics she has housed. People all along the coast, as well as residents of Portland, regret the edict which has now signed the death warrant of the grand old ship. But these are stern times, demanding more and more the sacrifice of possessions cherished from the past in order that there may be a future for us and our children.

'Sincerest Comradeship'

LITTLE NOTICED IN THE NEWS yesterday perhaps was an indication that the European branch of the Totalitarian Admiralty Society held a brief session. Benito Mussolini sent "greetings of sincerest comradeship" to Adolf Hitler in a telegram thanking the Fuehrer for his message of congratulation on yesterday's 20th anniversary of the Fascist regime in Italy. And Il Duce wound up his missive with this: "There is no doubt that the world representing the past is destined for downfall, and that our sacrifices will be rewarded by victory."

The funny little man in Rome can rest assured that a good deal of that past which represents his Fascist regime in Italy already is slated for the ash-heap; what further sacrifices Mussolini's compatriots may be called upon to suffer before they are rewarded by the victory his removal from the face of the earth will constitute for them is something which only the inexorable course of the war will reveal.

In any case, of course, this exchange of pleasantries between the arch-thugs of totalitarianism is propaganda window-dressing which must sicken even the most regimented dupe in Germany and Italy. The people of Milan and Turin and Genoa will find it difficult to harmonize Mussolini's bombastic "greetings of sincerest comradeship" with the Italian nation's servitude to the man to whom Il Duce himself taught the technique of dictatorship.

No Going Home for Many

IT IS NOT YET REALLY COLD IN THE Stalingrad area as cold is understood on the Russian steppes. But the German soldiers battering in vain among the ruins of the once great city on the Volga already are complaining of the bitterness of the weather. In the open fields of Russia, however, it is a horse of another color. The Nazis can escape from winter's blasts there only by going home. And how are they to go home save as sadly-disillusioned disciples of the totalitarian philosophy? For the valiant men of Russia, as German propagandists persist in telling the outside world, stubbornly refuse to admit defeat. They never will; and scores of tens of thousands of Hitlerites never will see Nazidom again.

But the gross and bemuddled Hermann Goering, the man who once assured the German people that no enemy bombs would ever fall on them, says that for the living it will not be so bad this year. There will be warmer garments stripped from the people in conquered lands. There will be little camp stoves and plenty of stolen food to eat. Last year's privations, argues the over-stuffed Reichsmarshal, were suffered only because the conquerors could not keep up with the climate. This year there are preparations. But is Goering right? There are good reasons for believing that this winter will be worse for the Germans in Russia than last winter. Last year they were confronted by an unexpected terror. Now they must face an anticipated terror from which they know there is no release.

And all the little camp stoves in the world cannot burn away the psychological shock of this second burial in the snow. All the fur coats on earth will not keep out a chill that bites to the marrow. To suffer such cold while success is still possible is one thing. Or, as one commentator put it the other day, to suffer it in failure is another; it paralyzes the spirit and freezes the fighting heart.

STRANGE NEWS

ACCORDING TO THE financial editors of Vancouver, who have been making a careful study of these things, the Christmas shopping trade of Canada will break all records. Everything we have known in the past by way of Christmas orgies will appear mild and pallid beside the outbreak just about six weeks ahead.

This is great news. Great news for Hitler. The economist will look at it from the standpoint of inflation. He will see in a nation with too much money to spend on too few available goods the menace of rising prices, and a broken price ceiling. He will very promptly argue that no price ceiling can long withstand the pressure of an enormous demand for goods that are not there to buy. He will conclude that Canada and all North America have not by any means won the fight against inflation, and, at this rate, may end the war in such a vortex of price increases and devalued money that a generation will pass before we have recovered from it.

But more important than the calculations of the economist are the calculations of the psychologist. For, after all, the psychology of a people is more important in a war than their financial system, which is merely a reflection of their habits. And the psychology reflected by the proposed Christmas binge is the most alarming symptom you can possibly imagine.

WE DON'T KNOW IT

THIS IS NOT the only evidence of an alarming psychology. We have the continual huge volume of retail business in Canada, the continual rise in the demand for goods among a people who must buy less if we are going to maintain our war effort. We have pressure for larger gasoline rations. We have chiselers demanding higher ration categories. We have hoarders. We have among us women like the well-dressed specimen whom I heard on the street yesterday telling her friend that "this talk about saving is all nonsense and newspaper talk. I'm going to buy exactly what I want," which she doubtless is doing.

The plain fact of the matter is, if we have the courage to face it, is that the people of North America, by and large, have not yet begun to realize the cost of this war. Apparently there is no use telling them. There is no use citing figures. There is no use shouting slogans. They will never understand it in words. They will only understand it in events.

What events are needed to make them understand I have long ceased to imagine. Apparently defeats everywhere, on every part of the map, are not enough. Apparently Japanese in control of most of the whole Pacific world, an empire potentially far stronger than Germany's, are not enough. Apparently the only thing that makes people understand what the war costs in their own private lives is to get into their private lives and push them around.

REACTION

THE PUBLIC probably realizes by now that tea and sugar are short because they are rationed. There is a general agreement that rubber is short and that there may not be enough gasoline; although the rumor still persists in these parts that the gasoline ration is all bunk, that there is more oil in the country than we can possibly use—a story undoubtedly started by the German or Japanese spies who operate here.

We have begun to learn of these shortages because we have been made to, by government regulation. And when people are faced finally with a definite regulation, they react instantly and magnificently. There is no whimpering in Canada when Mr. Isley raises taxes or Mr. Gordon orders rations. Then, when they know that the thing is settled, when they know that the government has a policy and an objective, when they feel that they are all in the same boat and working together equally, the people do not feel sorry for themselves. They feel happy. They feel they are getting somewhere.

NOT THERE

INSTEAD OF PRAISING our wonderful spirit in the Victory Loan—a good investment, at good interest—our governments ought to be telling us that this Victory Loan is only a beginning, that there must be others—and more taxes also. Instead of insinuating Selective Service into the country, and softening the blow, the government ought to be telling us the simple truth that before the war is over every man will be doing precisely the job he is ordered to do, where and when he is ordered to do it. And instead of thinking about Christmas we ought to be thinking about what is happening in Egypt and Russia and China and the South Seas. I doubt that there will be many Christmas trees lighted on the Egyptian desert this year. I doubt that the Chinese will be giving one another presents. And the children will not hang up their stockings this Christmas Eve in the smouldering houses of Stalingrad.

A condition has risen in this interesting country whereby a 10,000-ton freighter can be built in less time than it takes a politician to mend his fence.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"With Tony gone, the war's wrecked me—there are no young fellows left who would flock here for the other chair, and the wives of my older customers now make them shave themselves."

'Must Share Freedom To Keep It'—Willkie

Wendell Willkie after his recent trip around the world is more convinced than ever that men and ships and planes will win the war, but that homes must help secure the peace by giving children a world outlook. Writing in the November issue of Parents Magazine, Mr. Willkie says: "We can best justify the sacrifices of the men who are struck down in this war by the creation of a world in which those who survive them, and their sons and daughters, can live in freedom and in peace. "We can not wait until the war is over to begin work on that aim," he writes. "We must build a world in which men of all races and creeds and religions and nations can live in peace and harmony, in which the just fruits of enterprise will find their fulfillment, in which children may look forward to a constantly better world, free of hatred and bitterness and narrow isolationism and of economic degradation."

MUTUALLY DEPENDENT

"To build such a world the nations of the earth need each other's help. It will be a new idea to many Americans that the United States may in the future need help from other nations. But we do need help if our ideas of personal liberty, of justice, of equality, of hope, growth and expansion are to survive. We can keep America to ourselves though I doubt if the America we keep to ourselves would be free. . . . If we are to have freedom we must share freedom."

"Already we owe much to other peoples who are fighting for freedom. After Dunkerque the British stopped the German tide while we were slowly rousing ourselves from the delusions of peace. We had an opportunity to get our industries on a war footing, thanks to the brave Russian people. And how greatly in debt we are to China for the five long years of fighting by which she checked the Japanese."

RACIAL EQUALITY

"On Bataan the Filipinos and Americans, fighting side by side, learned the real meaning of equality. We know, now, in a way that we could never have known before, the real equality between races. The day is gone when men and women, of whatever color or creed, can consider themselves the superiors of other creeds or colors. The day of vast empire is past. The day of equal peoples is at hand."

"Let us keep and teach our children to keep that aim of equality shining before us like a light—a light for the people of Europe, for the people of Africa, for the people of Asia, for the people of South America and for the people of our own beloved land."

"American liberty is a religion. It is a thing of the spirit. It is an aspiration on the part of people for not alone a free life but a better life. . . . Now it is our duty to look, and to help our children to look, beyond the bloody horizons of the present, toward the shadows of the future which rise up like majestic promises of what may be our reward. Never has there existed such hope for mankind as exists today. Never have there existed on the surface of this planet so many human beings who know what freedom is and who are determined that, though it cost them their lives, it shall endure."

Reflections of a Soldier

By a Bombardier

This is Canada. We are at war. They say we have been at war for quite some time now—three years, in fact. We in Canada have not seen a battlefield—at least not yet. They say it is a terrible sight. I wouldn't be surprised. Or would I? Can we possibly imagine how terrible it really is—with blood, bodies crushed and torn by the heavy implements of war in their mad, crazy dash ahead as they sweep to the attack, where there is more blood, more bits of flesh and bone scattered into one terrible scene of horror.

Oh, fellow Canadians, if you could but realize the horror of it all—to see your best friend blown to pieces, or to see him suffer in agony in a slow death. Yes, my friends, it is a thing to stay well away from if you can; but can we all? Someone has to stop this monster of destruction, of persecution, hatred and bloodshed.

Can we with clear consciences send men, our men, into the mouths of the enemy's guns? Can we build a wall of flesh and blood to stop the enemy's wall of steel and not be touched to the heart when our wall of flesh is broken and the blood spilled? Oh, friends, this is not a war to fight with our bare arms and fists. This is a war of steel, and iron, and stone. We must meet the foe with more steel, more iron, more stone than they have. Oh, friends, don't force the Allies, our brothers, and sisters, to fight unarmed. Give them everything

THOSE ENGLISH WINTERS

From London Times

We may read of crisp, sparkling northern air and snowfields and winter sports or of the even unbroken splendors of California and believe for a moment that both or either would be quite heavenly; but we know that sooner or later we should yearn for the incalculable, for the fog and the slush and the rare glint of sunshine.

We would not exchange unending bliss for the sudden shock of joy in a "pet day," sandwiched between two tempestuous ones. We could not bear to think that never again should we put on our mackintoshes and go out of malice aforethought to splash through the puddles.

Wide-mindedness in this matter has very definite limits. It is true that we do not positively look forward to that curious hotpot of weathers which we call our winter; but in this regard as in all others the war now affects our views. We long for the winter to come quickly since we believe it will aid our heroic Allies in Russia. But we hope that our guests will find our winter not so bad as they fancy; we are full in advance of a genuine sympathy, but, come snuffles, come sneezes, we cannot wish it away.

WAR—25 YEARS AGO TODAY
OCT. 30, 1917—Canadian 3rd and 4th Divisions battled to the outskirts of Passchendaele, east of Ypres. Italian forces fell back on the Tagliamento River. Count von Hertling succeeded Dr. George Michaelis as German chancellor.

Infected Wounds Treated by Bacteria

Dr. William Newton, pathologist at the Canadian Government Experimental Station at Saanichton, told the Lions Club, Thursday, that methods of controlling harmful bacteria by the use of a secondary parasitic bacteria were now finding a place in medicine.

Dr. Newton presented a description of this study to medical men in England six or seven years ago, when he suggested that infections in wounds could be cured through the application of a living dressing containing organism known to destroy those present in the wound.

He said he had since heard this treatment had been administered in England since the outbreak of war.

Club president, W. J. R. Peers, gave an account of the second Lions concert for members of the services held at the Royal Victoria Theatre last Sunday evening.

Women Failures In Building Trade

Walter Luney and Colin Martin told the Rotary Club, at its Thursday luncheon, some of the wartime troubles into which their respective businesses, building contracting and neon advertising, had run.

Mr. Luney said his business was affected by the shortage of manual labor, adding that an experiment with women workers proved unsuccessful. He said the women quarreled among themselves, would not talk to each other, conversed endlessly with the male workers, the final result being that neither men nor women worked.

Wage freezing, building material priorities, inability to contract for private citizens for an amount larger than $500 and the extra office work entailed in computing unemployment insurance, cost of living bonuses and income tax deductions, all added to the building trade troubles, he stated.

Mr. Martin mentioned that blackout and dimout regulations had adversely affected neon advertising. It was no longer neon, but ne-off, according to Mr. Martin.

He mentioned that neon displays for windows could still be pushed but that his company was not bothering with this, as dimout regulations are expected to prohibit neon lighting, even inside windows.

Because of slackness in this part of the neon business, his company was now paying more attention to fluorescent lighting, especially for industrial and war plants.

Al Smith and Al Prescott completed the program with piano and violin selections.

Advertising Conference

TORONTO (CP)—The Association of Canadian Advertisers Incorporated has announced it will sponsor an international wartime advertising conference, opening here Nov. 11. Advertising associations from the United States and Canada are expected to send representatives.

"HMMM... I THOUGHT THE BARED MIDRIF WAS A FASHION FOR WOMEN"

SUE: Well! What a novel effect! Bared midriff and all!

TOM: Aw, cut it out, Sue. Can I help it if my shirt shrunk?

SUE: You poor, neglected thing! Didn't you ever hear about those bee-utiful sport shirts that don't shrink? Come closer and I'll share the news about the "Sanforized" label.

TOM: "Sanforized?"

SUE: Yes. "SANFORIZED." And remember whenever you see this magic name on a shirt, it means that that shirt won't ever shrink out of fit... can't shrink more than a tiny 1%.

TOM: All right. You win. Let's call the Men's Shop right now and order me a sport shirt with a "Sanforized" label in it. But recall, please, the state of my budget!

SUE: Never fear! Shirts marked "Sanforized" cost not a penny more.

Not only shirts, but men's shorts, pajamas and work clothes carry the "Sanforized" label. Look for all the other washables that are marked "Sanforized"—women's and children's dresses, sportswear, uniforms, nightwear, slip covers and draperies!

"SANFORIZED"

Alexandra Rose Day Tomorrow to Aid Child Welfare

Despite Britain's preoccupation with the war, the little inmates of the Children's Crippleage at Halesbury, Sussex, still make the roses which have been made there annually for Alexandra Rose Day. Tomorrow on the streets of Victoria these little tokens, brought safely through submarine-infested waters, will be sold on the streets of Victoria to help underprivileged children of Vancouver Island.

The I.O.D.E. is again in charge of the sale, and Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Municipal vice-regent, is in charge, assisted by Municipal officers and conveners appointed by the primary chapters.

Many years ago Rose Day was organized by Queen Alexandra and on her death it was continued in her memory by her daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, for the sick and suffering, in whom Queen Alexandra always took such a deep and sympathetic interest. The original date was the second Wednesday in June.

Money raised from the Alexandra Rose Day is divided into child welfare work, providing milk and hospitalization for undernourished children; providing layettes for needy mothers or for use in helping any needy family, especially that of a veteran; aiding Queen Alexandra Solarium (in addition to the endowed cot which the I.O.D.E. already maintains), and 2 1/2 per cent of the gross proceeds goes to the Children's Crippleage in England, so that purchasers of tomorrow's tag will be helping the children of Britain as well as of Vancouver Island.

Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters will meet in the rooms Nov. 6, at 3.

Honor Woman Doctor For Cancer Control Work at Clinic

By ADELAIDE KERR
NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Elise L'Esperance's last name means hope. And her career has spelled hope to women.

First, she founded five New York clinics for women devoted to the fight for control of cancer. Next she staffed them entirely with women, to give women doctors and technicians a break.

As a result of her work she is the first woman to receive the 1942 Clement Cleveland Medal given annually by the New York City Cancer Committee for "outstanding contribution to cancer control work." She has just received the award.

Dr. L'Esperance, daughter of a physician and niece of Chauncey Depew, bears her honors with such modesty that she flatly refuses to talk about herself. But she will talk about the "fine work" done by her associates and the help of her sister, Miss May Strang, who co-operated with her in endowing the clinics at the New York Infirmary for Women and Children and at Memorial Hospital.

IN EVERY COMMUNITY

"I hope the day will come," she says, "when there will be cancer prevention clinics in every sizeable community, so that every body can go for an annual cancer check-up. Cancer is the second largest cause of death. But it can be controlled."

Elsie Strang L'Esperance is a poised woman of the world who works with consummate zeal. She knew that she wanted to be a doctor from the time she was a little girl. She was graduated from the Women's Medical College of the New York Infirmary for Women and Children in 1890, and after specializing in pediatrics entered the Department of pathology at Cornell Medical College as assistant to Dr. James Ewing.

Later she served as pathologist at various New York hospitals, and for the last 32 years has been director of laboratories and pathologist at the New York Infirmary for Women and Children.

WOMEN DOCTORS

In 1933 Dr. L'Esperance and her sister, using an inheritance from their uncle, Chauncey Depew, founded the Kate Depew Strang Tumor Clinic at the New York Infirmary in memory of their mother. Another cancer control clinic at New York Infirmary and three at Memorial Hospital are outgrowths of that.

All five of the clinics are staffed by women physicians and technicians.

"Women doctors have a hard time," says Dr. L'Esperance. "They are a long way still from equality with men. And I wanted to give them a chance to train in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer—just as I wanted to give women a chance who are suffering from the disease."

12,000 at Dance For Toronto Airmen

TORONTO (CP)—Twelve thousand members of the R.C.A.F. and their girl friends took part here Thursday night in what is believed to have been the largest Halloween party ever held in Canada.

A thousand girls had been invited to dance with lonely airmen who have no friends in Toronto. Ten women chaperones circulated through the crowds all evening introducing airmen to the girls, who wore yellow tags.

The dance was held in the Sports Arena of No. 1 Manning Depot.

METROPOLITAN Y.P.U.

The "mystery trip" arranged by Metropolitan Y.P.U. Tuesday evening, was an interesting tour of the Maurice Carmichael silver-smith shop. Mr. Jeffries explained the various phases and also demonstrated a number of the processes involved. Doreen Tupman expressed the thanks of the group to Mr. Jeffries. Following this, the members went for fish and chips.

At the meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m., Darshan Singh, prominent young Hindu speaker, will be the guest. In addition there will be a musical program, arranged by Bernie Porter. All young people will be cordially welcomed.

Members of the Victoria branch of the Channel Islands Society held a successful bridge party Thursday evening in the rooms of the Professional and Business Women's Club, Union Bank Building, with 20 tables in play. The proceeds from the undertaking will be devoted to the relief work of the residents of the Channel Islands now in England. The bridge was convened by Mrs. C. P. L. Pearson, assisted by Mrs. J. D. Mugford, president of the Victoria branch of the Channel Islands Society, and by Mrs. J. E. Whittle, who had charge of the refreshments.

Miss Bernadette Corcoran, whose marriage to Lieut. Charles W. Nash, R.C.O.C., will take place Saturday morning, was honored Thursday evening by a personal shower given by Miss Hilda Smith at her home on Island Road. ## Spinster's Bequest Recalls Campus Romance of 1876

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP)—A spinster's bequest is breathing new life into her almost legendary Kansas university campus romance, blighted 66 years ago by the death of her handsome young professor-lover.

Kate Stephens rose above her grief to become an important figure in American letters and died four years ago at the age of 85. A university committee has just begun administration of her $30,000 bequest, which includes the Byron Caldwell Smith award, named in memory of her fiancé.

The award will be given, seven years from now, to some author of Kansas or the Mississippi Valley, whose books have proved to be not the "ephemeral, vacation-hammock type novel."

Byron Smith was professor of Greek at the university in 1873 when Kate Stephens enrolled in his class. He wrote her, not long before his death three years later:

"I would like to stand where I used to stand of mornings and watch for your little crimson coat rising over the hill like a star."

Miss Stephens later published the tender letters he wrote her under the title "The Love Life of Byron Caldwell Smith."

Frank Harris, eccentric writer known as the "Bad Boy of American Letters," and a classmate of Miss Stephens at the University of Kansas, drew her fire by references to Smith in his campus reminiscences. She retaliated by publishing "The Lies and Libels of Frank Harris," in 1929.

But Harris protested: "I never found a fault in him, of character or of sympathy. He lit the sacred fire in me and I'll go on till death."

Harris, English and American biographer and editor, died in 1931.

Miss Stephens later relented toward Harris and edited his biography, written by Dr. A. I. Tobin.

After Smith's death, Miss

Red Cross Notes

LINK OF EMPIRE

Sending Canadian Red Cross food parcels to British prisoners of war not only provides life-sustaining food for those who are sacrificing so much for the cause of world freedom, but is forging strong links of Empire. This is demonstrated in the following letter from an English woman, the wife of Cpl. C. C. Browne, to the Canadian Red Cross: "I wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the two parcels you have sent my husband, Cpl. Browne, 1360 XX A5, Germany. It is now more than two years since we have seen our daddy. It seems ages, but his letters are most cheerful, and when he told me he was receiving Red Cross food parcels, I felt greatly cheered up. I hope after this ghastly business is over to visit your lovely country."

RED CROSS RECORD

Mrs. Benjamin Cobville of Poynter Island has established a record of making 296 Red Cross articles of clothing in a year—more than five a week. Included in this were 48 V sweaters, 39 pairs of socks, 3 surgeons' gowns and caps and other articles.

Old Games for Hallowe'en

By DOROTHY ROE

When witches walk, and goblins stalk, and Johnny cuts-boles in your best linen sheet for his spook costume. . . . When even grownups feel a thrill of remembered excitement and a tingle on the window screen can make you jump and scream. . . .

When Jack-o'-lanterns grin through the dimout and October takes her final curtain call—that, folks, is Hallowe'en, a holiday to be observed, enjoyed and celebrated to the hilt, even in wartime. In most centres there'll be lots of servicemen available as guests of the party.

So invite the neighbors in, bake up a batch of pumpkin pies and dig down in your memory for some of those spine-tingling games that used to make Hallowe'en a wonder and a delight. In case you've forgotten, here are a few that can be dusted off and used for the sure success of any Hallowe'en party:

PLAY 'MURDER'

Remember this game? You need a group of a dozen congenial friends, a dash of imagination and an atmosphere of suspense. Prepare the same number of slips as there are persons present. On one write "crown attorney," on another "murderer." Leave the others blank.

Have each guest draw a slip from a hat instructing them beforehand that the one who draws the "murderer" slip must keep his secret. The person who draws the "crown attorney" slip then withdraws to a remote corner of the house, the lights are turned off, the "murderer" selects a "victim," who when he feels stealthy fingers at his throat screams and plays dead. The "crown attorney" then is summoned and begins the questioning. Rules of the game are:

LEADERS' COUNCIL

Victoria C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council met Wednesday at First United Church. The president, Jean Wilson, welcomed the following new leaders: Mrs. Muirhead and Miss Tate from Centennial United, Miss Laura McClure and Miss Enid Faulkner from St. Aidan's United and also a representative from the Anglican Church, Mrs. Keen.

Marie Cochrane, representative of the island for the new paper, C.G.I.T. in B.C., urged all groups to subscribe. The president reminded leaders to get in touch with Mrs. McLaurin with regard to work the girls might want to do for the Salvage Corps. She also urged all groups who have not registered to send in their registration forms as soon as possible. The use of the self-denial envelopes was explained.

Marion Stevenson, in charge of the nominating committee, gave her report, and the following new officers were elected: President, Mrs. Helen Fulton; vice-president, Rita Rodgers; secretary, June Thompson; treasurer, Marie Cochrane; press reporter, Irene Pearce. Mrs. H. E. Thomson gave word of welcome to the new executive, and thanked the retiring president, Jean Wilson, and the retiring executive.

It was decided that future meetings be held the first Wednesday in each month at 7.30

Housewives Report On Price Increases

OTTAWA (CP) — More than 400,000 women taking notes in small blue books are considered officially to be a pillar of Canada's price-control structure.

Prices board spokesmen said the specially-designed blue books in which women keep a record of the prices they pay for various commodities so they can compare the rates with those charged during the basic period from Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941, are being issued only to those who ask for them.

They are being used to check movements in prices, and to maintain the control regulations designed to protect consumers against higher living costs. Women have been encouraged to report any instance of a rising price, sending their complaints to the nearest women's regional advisory committee or office of the Prices Board.

SAMPLES OF CASES

Officials here gave some samples of cases handled by the board's enforcement division as a result of such reports:

A Winnipeg housewife reported an increase in the price of pork kidney from 12 to 15 cents a pound. Investigation showed the increase had been made without knowledge of the store's head office and an immediate correction was made.

A North Battleford, Sask., farmer's wife complained of an increase in the price of a galvanized dairy pail, from 50 to 60 cents. There were no records on which to establish a basic ceiling price, but the merchant decided to reduce the price of all such pails in stock to 50 cents.

The most helpful books are those in which the prices paid for articles during the basic period last year were entered, but failing such a record women are urged to mark down the price paid the first time an article is bought.

TONIGHT WILL SEE the debut of the other two service clubs of the Island Senior Hockey League when the classy Army squad stacks up against the R.C.A.F. Flyers from Pat Bay at the Willows ice house. Navy made an auspicious start Monday night by knocking over the V.M.D. entry. If past performances and reputations mean anything, the Army club should prove one of the most feared in the circuit. Topped by such famous hockey names as Nick Metz and Bill Carse, the soldiers have gathered a collection of seasoned puck material.

Metz will not make his initial appearance with the Army team tonight, being in Toronto for a special charity engagement at Maple Leaf Gardens. But he will be back with the team for its second game. Just to put everybody straight, Metz will play hockey in Victoria. That is the official word from Ivan Temple, secretary of the Island League, and also from officials of the Army club. We give this official announcement in answer to the statement carried in the Vancouver Sun that Metz would play in the Mainland League as playing-manager of the Army club of that circuit. Authority for the statement was Maj. Gus Sivertz, press liaison officer for the army. Maj. Sivertz is a little off the beam and will have to eat those words before long.

Nanaimo Clippers have added some real color to their team by securing Larry (China Clipper) Kwong, 13-year-old Chinese star of last year's Trail Smoke Eaters. Kwong, who began his hockey career in the interior, was a sensation last season in the ABC

Pimlico Futurity Tomorrow

Winner Derby Choice

BALTIMORE (AP)—The season's top-ranking two-year-old colts, Occupation and Count Fleet, are scheduled to clash tomorrow in the rich Pimlico Futurity, a race which probably will determine the winter book favorite for next year's Kentucky Derby.

Count Fleet gained strong support when he ran the fastest mile ever chalked up by a two-year-old in winning Belmont's Champagne Stakes.

Occupation twice defeated Mrs. John D. Hertz' son of Reich Count—in the Washington and Belmont Park Futurities—but the bull dog colt has not raced at any distance longer than six and a half furlongs, whereas Count Fleet has won races at a mile and a mile and 70 yards.

VALUE OF $36,400

The Pimlico Futurity, at a mile and one-sixteenth, carries $15,000 in added money. With the nominating fees it now has a value of $36,400, with starting fees of $500 for each horse to be added.

With the exception of Occupation and Count Fleet, the line-up is uncertain, although six or eight colts are expected to face the barrier. Other starters probably will come from a group including W. L. Brann's Vinciente, Calumet Farm's Ocean Wave, Falaire Stables' Good Morning, King Ranch's Two Timely and Walter M. Jefford's Halbred.

Occupation last Saturday won the Breeder's Futurity at Keeneland, while Count Fleet's most recent effort was his victory in an allowance race at Jamaica on Oct. 20.

Duck Season Opens

Those sportsmen who like to go duck hunting can hit for the marshes and low lands tomorrow morning as it will mark the opening of another season on the island. Ducks will remain in season until Jan. 31. Season on Wilson snipe extends from tomorrow until Jan. 15.

Geese and black brant do not come into season until Dec. 19 and remain lawful game until Feb. 28.

Frank Boucher Tells Boys How

History records that coach Frank Boucher of New York Rangers won the Lady Byng trophy seven times as the National Hockey League's most gentlemanly player. Here he tells his Rangers how he did it: "Sometimes you feel like taking a swing at someone out there, but if you stop and think for a few seconds, you realize it isn't very profitable. Fortunately, I was able to stop and think on most occasions."

Dick Irvin is generally associated with pigeons, but reports from Montreal say he raffied off a collie pup at the Canadiens training camp. Ray Gettiffe held the winning number.

Manager Paul Thompson says the coming hockey game is one featuring five forwards and a goalie. Apparently he wasn't just talking. Thursday he used that combination as one of the teams in the morning and afternoon scrimmages, although stressing the idea is purely experimental. Mush March and Bill Thoma were the speed hounds serving as defencemen.

High scorer on the Ranger team this season will collect a pot made up of $10 contributions from each player.

Leaf Ice Stars In Final Stand

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto hockey fans had their last glimpse Thursday night for the duration of all the players who brought the Stanley Cup to this city last season as the Toronto Maple Leafs staged their annual preseason contest in which Syl Apps' Blues defeated Nick Metz's Whites 3 to 2 in a game for the Victory Loan. The gross proceeds of $9,000 went to war charities.

Of the 27 players who took part in the game, 13 were members of the armed forces who came from all parts of Canada. Short on hockey condition, the servicemen did not stand up to the grind as well as the regular Leafs, but they were in there plugging most of the way. Two of them figured in the scoring, L. Cpl. Don Metz getting the final goal of the game with just over a minute left to play. AC2. Frankie Eddolls got the assist.

The other scorers were Hank Goldup, Lorne Carr, Mel Hill and Gaye Stewart.

AC2. Wally Stanowski also figured in the scoring, but in reverse order. He threw his stick as youthful Gaye Stewart raced in on the Whites goal after breaking away alone, and referee Norman Lamport awarded a goal to the Blues.

The game ended in confusion as all the players from both teams jumped over the boards and tore into the fray in the last 20 seconds.

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice Richard has reached an agreement with the management of Montreal Canadiens and will be in the line-up for the National Hockey League opener here Saturday, it was announced here Thursday night.

Richard, promising young rookie, will perform with Elmer Lach and Tony Demers on the ambulance line—so-called because all three players were victims of injuries last winter.

So Near and Yet---

Army back Bob Woods (10) seems about to snag off the ball, passed by Joe Anderson, but Cornell's Louis Daukas (28) spoiled his fun by slapping it down to the ground. Cushing, Cornell centre, is dashing in on the play. Daukas' slapdown didn't help the Canucks much, as Army blitzed 'em 28 to 8.

Week-end Soccer

Two Games Tomorrow

Two Victoria and District Football League games will be played Saturday afternoon, Army meeting Navy at Athletic Park, while V.M.D. plays the Canadian Artillery School of Instruction at Bullen Park. Sunday R.A.F. will play Esquimalt United at Bullen Park. Starting time for all games is 2:30.

The Navy-Army match should be a real battle. In their last meeting, the Navy edged through with a 2 to 1 win in a nip-and-tuck game. Army manager, Sgt. Maj. Ken Elliott is sure of victory this time, basing much of his confidence on the return of his ace goalie, Carmichael. Both teams will be at full strength. Army needs the win to obliterate a goose egg from the point column.

The C.A.S. of I. played their first game of the season last week and came in with a 5 to 4 verdict over Esquimalt United. They hope to continue the good work when they play Jock McCall's V.M.D. crew.

Jock, however, won't be partial to any such idea as a win for his squad will mean the league leadership. V.M.D. are at present tied with R.A.F. at the top of the race.

Sunday's game should attract customers. The R.A.F. have a large following, who think the Englishmen are capable of taking Esquimalt United. United under the direction of Joe Watt, have an improved roster since their last game, and expect to make matters interesting.

Line-ups follow:
Navy — Stewardson, Bridgen, Marsh, Matheson, Speller, Gudmundson, Cockrill, McCann, Simpson, Musgrave, Reid, Skidmore, Harrison, Ramsay and Christie.

Army — Carmichael, Davies, Gavin, Moon, Chapman, Embrey, Cosier, Gold, Speller, Wilson, Dallimore and Slanece.
Esquimalt United — T. Restell, A. Young, C. Holt, G. Robbins, J. Speller, J. Travis, G. Duncan, J. Robbins, A. White, C. Robbins, L. Murray, K. Gent, G. Creed, A. Jenkins, G. Robbins and Jim Watt.

V.M.D. — Evans, Slogar, McGeachey, Sage, Dugan, Peffers, Blakeburn, Park, Harris, Reside, Morgan, Payne, Robinson and Barnswell.

PLAY SERVICE HOCKEY

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—The Cape Breton Senior Hockey League was reorganized Thursday night as the Cape Breton Service League and will be made up of one team from each of the three services.

The league will be affiliated with the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association and will participate in its playdowns. Tentative date for the schedule opening was set as Nov. 30. Games will alternate between Glace Bay and Sydney.

Army-R.C.A.F. Clash in Hockey Fracas Tonight

Torchy Peden In U.S. Army

MARIETTA, O. (AP)—William (Torchy) Peden, Victoria, B.C., Canada's famed six-day bike racer, was among a group of Washington County selectees who left here Thursday for Columbus for induction into the United States army.

(Torchy thus follows his younger brother Doug into the armed forces by a matter of a few weeks. Doug, also a famed pro bike rider and baseball, returned to Victoria in the fall and joined the 27th Ack Ack Battery. Torchy was the winner of the recent six-day bike race held at Montreal. Sgt. Anna Peden, a sister, is a member of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) and has been spending her furlough with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Peden, 820 Princess Avenue.)

Injury Bugbear Hits Balmy Beach

The injury jinx has struck again at Toronto Balmy Beach, this time in force, but the latest misfortune probably will be accepted with stoical calm. Beach learned long ago that the football dice are always loaded. Against Beaches, that is.

Coach Alex Ponton, better than anyone else, could recite some tearful tales about how some sort of hoodoo, like the waterboy wearing a green tie or a half-back running the wrong way, always managed to overtake Balmies at the crucial psychological moment. He could, but he is probably too busy with his latest calamity to bother.

This time it's injuries. The casualty list includes Ross McKelvey (knee injury) and Don Smythe (conked elbow). Both are swift young backs. Assorted injuries will keep linemen Jack Young, Lee Deadey and possibly Butch Allison out of the line-up. On top of that, Murray Griffin seems to have deserted camp.

WEEK SEVERE THREAT

It couldn't have happened at a more unfortunate time. A week ago, Beaches were at their peak with four straight victories. If anybody was going to catch R.C.A.F. Hurricanes, it looked like the Balmies could do it. But now, if they take the Flyers Saturday in the first half of the weekly Ontario Union double-header in varsity stadium, it could go down in history.

Beaches have a special incentive against the undefeated Hurricanes. The last time the two teams met, Flyers won 4 to 6. And another trimming, even of more modest proportions, will probably unseat Ponton's club from second place in the standings. Toronto's Navy entry from H.M.C.S. York is just a point behind and it has what looks like a soft touch Saturday against Kitchener - Waterloo Panthers, who have yet to win a game.

Toronto Oakwood Indians travel to Hamilton to meet Wildcats in the third game on Saturday's card. The result of the game won't have any immediate effect on the standing of the top teams, but an Indian victory over the slipping Wildcats would just about wrap up Toronto's monopoly over the outside teams in the loop.

With betting house cases in future, instead of just imposing fines.

Last week Tom Armatas, 52, of 722 Granville, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Recently the magistrate said he couldn't see "any justification at all" for men operating betting houses.

"There is a war on. I don't see any need for this sort of operation," he declared.

The town is full of these men. Why shouldn't they be doing something useful? Instead of running these things?"

Small enough to be carried in a vest pocket, a gauge has been invented by a Pittsburgh man to measure the draft in furnace pipes by inserting a tube through a small hole in a smoke pipe, the volume of draft being shown on a dial.

Former Trot Out Line-up Of Ex-pros

It will be Army vs. R.C.A.F. as the Island Senior Hockey League presents its second game of the season at the Willows Arena tonight, starting at 8:30. Clubs pried off the lid on the campaign Monday night with the Navy blanking the V.M.D. 2 to 0.

Army will present a lineup featuring several former major and minor league professionals. Heading the list will be Bill Carse, former member of manager Paul Thompson's Chicago Black Hawks in the N.H.L. Carse will be partnered on a line with Len Haldorsen, formerly of Springfield Indians, and Pinky Melnyk, who played his hockey last season with Cleveland Barons.

Second Army line will present three players well-known to Victoria hockey followers, namely, Bus Algar, Elmer Kreller and Les Wilson. This trio were all members of the Bapcos in last year's Intercity League.

For defence duties the Army will have available Julian Sawchuk, formerly of the New York Rangers; Ab Macdonald, another ex-Rover; Dunc Grant, last year with the Vancouver Norwans in the Intercity League, and Stan Sutherland, a younger brother of Hugh Sutherland, V.M.D. defence star.

In goal for the Army will be Stan Curry, popular local athlete. Last season Curry was reserve goalie for the Bapcos and netminder for the Duroid Raiders, local, junior outfits. According to reports the youngster has been shaping up well in training, and team officials are looking for him to make good in his jump to senior company.

Pat Bay Flyers take the ice with a number of unknown players, but the airmen have been holding daily workouts and figure to give the Army a good run. One popular performer with the Flyers will be Jimmy Lowe, who last season, divided his playing between the air force club and Bapcos. Lowe will hold down a wing berth on the number one forward line.

In goal for the Flyers will be Clowe, who turned in several smart exhibitions with the club last season. Two other members of last year's squad who will appear again are Gilpin, a forward, and O'Donohue, defence-man.

Acting as coach of the team is a chap called Verity, who played professional with Omaha. Other players, unknown to the local hockey front, who will wear air force uniforms, include Wilson, Wood, Heide, Gardner, Johnson, Cook, Burnett, Ponton and Smith.

Lloyd Camyte and Ed Battell will be the referees tonight.

Tomorrow night the V.M.D. will travel to Nanaimo to usher in the season at the up-island town.

Monday night Nanaimo will invade the Victoria Arena for the first time to meet up with the smart squad of the Navy.

Southworth Pays Penalty for Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Southworth paid a penalty Thursday for his St. Louis Cardinals winning the world championship of baseball.

He was added to the list of famous fall guys of the Circus Sains and Sinners Club, and at a "luncheon" lasting four hours was barbecued till his face was red and his life's history was bare.

The peppery pilot of the Redbirds finished stronger, however, than his tormentors, chief of whom were Maj. Harold G. Hoffman, former governor of New Jersey and president of the club, and ringmaster Tex O'Rourke, widely-known master of ceremonies.

After they had finished heckling him, and had him decked out like a deck of cards, literally, Southworth was allowed to "say a few words in self-defence," and spent half an hour praising his ball club.

Greco Will Help Lust Condition

MONTREAL (CP)—Eppie Lust, brother-manager of welterweight Al Lust, isn't overlooking any bets in preparing his army brother for his fight with Dave Castilloux here Nov. 5.

Johnny Greco, an old stablemate of Castilloux, is returning to town today and Eppie is going right after him for a sparring partner for his brother. Eppie figures Greco could give Al a few pointers on Castilloux' style.

Eppie might be right at that. Ringside gossip is that there is a tepid sort of feeling between Castilloux and Young Johnny, who would like to get a crack at Castilloux himself. Greco didn't get anywhere in the fight world until he broke loose from Raoul Godbout, Castilloux' manager. Then he won 17 straight fights.

Greco figures he could lift Castilloux' lightweight crown if he was given the opportunity, but so far he hasn't had the chance. He knows Dave's fighting style inside out.

Greco has received his military call-up and is due to report to military authorities. Eppie will be waiting for him too.

Al Lust got his first eastern workout Thursday at the Square gym. Later in the day Castilloux returned to town, and went through a workout in the same gym.

Canadiens Return to Stiff Training

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Montreal Canadiens went back into hard drilling Thursday following their surprise defeat Wednesday night at the hands of Cornwall's Quebec Senior Hockey League army team, but there were few worries in the Canuck camp over their first loss of the season.

Coach Dick Irvin figured his National Hockey League charges had underrated the Q.S.H.L. entry, and were unable to make the grade when they found themselves far behind to a good team.

Cornwall won 5 to 4. "The loss will do us a lot of good," said Irvin, "it should let the players know that they have plenty of work ahead of them yet, and help make them realize that the tough days of the N.H.L. grind are at hand."

Noted Jockeys Get Lengthy Suspensions

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Meade, Wayne Wright and Herb Lindberg, veteran jockeys, will ride no more this year.

Suspension of the three riders, who were set down during the recent Jamaica meeting, was continued Thursday until Dec. 31 by the stewards of the Jockey Club. Meade and Lindberg were charged with collusion in a handicapping race, Oct. 19, and Wright with grabbing Darrell Clingman's saddle cloth and leg, while plotting Riverland to a close victory over Boyes in the Continental Handicap, Oct. 17. Riverland was disqualified.

HOCKEY PLAYERS HELD UP

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Although five of their players are detained at the Canadian border awaiting traveling permits, Providence Reds opened their American Hockey League season by defeating Eddie Shore's Buffalo Bisons 5 to 2.

Boot Case Jury Given Cushions

Police office officials in various divisions told the Assize Court jury Thursday afternoon they had received no direct shipments from manufacturers instead of the quartermaster stores, except in one specific instance, as the trial of L. J. Simmons, former quartermaster, and J. A. Walsh, managing director of Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd., continued.

The hearing marked the eighth day of the trial in which the two accused are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government. Cushions were supplied the members of the jury for the first time during the morning.

Sgt. J. H. Hooker, Prince George, completed his testimony saying goods were sent directly to the men in the division to which he belonged. George J. Mead, Prince Rupert, who was divisional clerk at Vancouver from 1936 to 1941, said he had received no direct shipment from Cathcart's of supplies but that he had once received uniforms direct from Gordon Campbell Ltd. Replying to question by P. J. Sin-nog, counsel for Simmons, he said Simmons occasionally came to Vancouver to arrange equipment for special constables. He assumed the goods which came at the same time were from the quartermaster stores, but admitted he might be wrong.

E. Patterson, assistant chief clerk at the Nelson police office, J. L. Smith, clerk at Prince Rupert, and Jas. E. Wellings, Kamloops, said they had received no direct shipments from boot contractors and Sgt. T. Kinnelly, Victoria, said his requirements had come through quartermaster stores.

BOOTS PURCHASED

J. A. Reid, Hartt Shoe Co., testified 350 pairs of Strathcona boots had been ordered by Cathcart's during one year and that 150 had been paid for and delivered, going to quartermaster stores while the invoice went to Cathcart's.

R. Leonard, Slater Shoe Co. Ltd., testified to the ordering and delivery of various shipments of boots by Cathcart's in 1938 and said earlier shipments had been made in 1937. The company never refused credit to Cathcart's, he said.

E. A. Morris, accountant who audited the books of Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd. three days a month, gave testimony on transactions indicated by the books. One covered a loan repaid by Walsh to the company.

Morris said he had noted the figure $1,600 in the day book of the company when he found a payment of that amount had been made by the government.

"I was told the cheque had been cashed and the money paid over to the Parliament Buildings," he said.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., crown prosecutor, asked if he knew why those monies had been refunded after the witness had listed repayments in smaller sums. Morris replied he had not the slightest idea.

He was asked for the full conversation with Mr. Walsh on the matter.

"I asked him (Walsh) who he paid it to and he said he'd rather not say," witness replied.

Refunds in installments of $1,495 were also listed by Morris, as was one for $800.

"I understood it was refunded—simply a cheque being cashed," he said, referring to the latter.

Vancouver Doctor Restored to Rolls

VANCOUVER (CP)—Allowing an appeal by Dr. Eldon Rogers from the decision of the council of the British Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, Mr. Justice Coady in B.C. Supreme Court Thursday restored Dr. Rogers' name to the college's register.

Mr. Justice Coady found the executive committee of the council had acted without jurisdiction in striking Dr. Rogers' name from the rolls for "infamous and unprofessional" conduct in failing to administer insulin to a diabetic patient.

Sgt. Air Gunner

SGT. SANDY HUNTER
Sgt. Air Gunner J.D. "Sandy" Hunter, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunter, 911 Linden Avenue, arrived home Wednesday on leave after having graduated from No. 2 I.T.S., Regina. Sgt. Hunter was one of a party of six airmen who will form a bomber crew.

Wings were presented to the six by Hon. A. P. McNab, Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan, and father of Group Capt. Ernest McNab, D.F.C.

Sgt. Hunter attended University School here and later studied at Aero Industries Technical Institute, Glendale, Cal. He also worked for Boeings in Vancouver before joining the R.C.A.F.

Amaya Draws Big Audience

By M. A.

Carmen Amaya, noted Spanish dancer, came to Royal Victoria Theatre Thursday as the first of the season's Hilker attractions. If she disappointed many individuals, because of the lack of variety on her program, she pleased many others, for there was consistent applause from the capacity house.

Absence of the leading male dancer, Antonio Triana, no doubt took much from the program. As announced by Gordon Hilker, Triana had difficulties at the international border and was not allowed to cross into Canada.

That Amaya knows her Spanish dances there can be no question. She puts into them that snap and sparkle and wickedness that everyone attaches to the hot-blooded dances of Spain. Certain it is that her rhythms are magnificent and her timing perfect. She became almost a contortionist at times and number of her dances left her breathless. A charming Spanish manner added much to her attractive appearance. She interpreted the gypsy spirit in more than one dance, outstanding being the Cordoba.

Amaya was ably assisted by Antonia Amaya and Leonor Amaya.

Costuming was brilliant and gay, with rainbow-like splashes of vivid color against the black velvet backdrops. In her "Ay, que tu," Amaya wore a long wide train, which she tossed violently with her feet.

Two guitarists, Sabicas and Paco Amaya, added to the Andalusian atmosphere of the evening. Able accompanist was Raymond Sachse, who gave two solo numbers.

The program finished with a gay "Fiesta in Seville," in which Amaya appeared with her two assistants and the two guitarists. This was beautifully done and it needed little imagination to imagine oneself in a party atmosphere in old Spain.

Willkie Reiterates Plea for More Aid To Fighting Allies

NEW YORK (AP)—Wendell Willkie Thursday night renewed his plea for increased aid to the fighting allies of the United States in his second radio address since returning from his world tour.

Speaking on the "March of Time" program over the NBC coast-to-coast network, the 1940 Republican presidential candidate declared that "Russian production alone is not enough," and said that "we must aid them with increasing supplies if they are to hold that hard-fought front which is ours as well as theirs."

He also told of talks with American flyers in China. He said they are "healthy and fit, but frustrated and impatient because they have so few planes and bombs and such a big opportunity."

Willkie spent part of the time during his short speech giving thumb-nail sketches of some of the fighting leaders he had met on his travels.

Of Josef Stalin, Willkie said that "one's first impression is that he is short, stocky and stolid. One quickly comes to realize, however, that he has a rough-and-tumble sense of humor, and the thing one finally remembers most about him is the clarity of his mind."

Willkie said that Lt.-Gen. Bernard Montgomery, who is directing in the field the British offensive, is a "quiet little Irishman" with "every detail of his command right at his fingertips."

He said he had asked Gen. Montgomery about his desert opponent, Marshal Rommel, and was told:

"He is an extremely able general, but he has a weakness—a tendency to repeat his tactics."

Willkie described Gen. Chiang Kai-shek as "a true Christian soldier in every sense of the word," and said that Madame Chiang Kai-shek "is the only international celebrity whose personal attractiveness far exceeds her advance notices."

Darlan in Vichy After Africa Tour

VICHY (CP)—Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of Vichy's armed forces, returned today from an inspection of French African colonies along the Atlantic as a high government figure hinted Vichy stood ready to defend its present colonies and to "counter-attack" to regain those lost.

The possibility of offensive action was raised by Paul Marion, secretary of state for information, in a speech at Nice. He spoke while the government awaited to learn the fate of Planarantsoa, last big Madagascar stronghold, which now is under fire of British forces of occupation on that island.

"To the egoism of England," Marion said, "France must respond by egoism just as complete. She must above all defend her empire and even aim at a triumphant counterattack."

He told his audience of 6,000 that Britain and the United States had, by what he called their own admissions, demonstrated they were "in a precarious position."

The motion picture industry in Occupied France is required to turn over all old films for the manufacture of Nazi chemical products.

Sugar, one of the important products of the territory of Hawaii, did not reach those islands for nearly 3,000 years after its discovery in the Far East.

Mexican women are making their own clothes in a big way, judging by their importation of sewing machines; last year's importation doubled that of the year before.

"THEY DON'T WANT SWAMPS AND JUNGLES" THEY WANT YOUR HOME!

"Do not be confused by this war, Canada. When the Nazi chiefs howl of 'lebensraum' (living room) do you think they are talking of Britain? No! There's no living room in Britain—that tiny island now overcrowded by its forty-four million people! When the paranoiacs of Berlin scream about colonies, do you think they are talking about some strip of banana land, or some unholy spot in a malaria-ridden jungle?"

"Let us not be idiotic... Germany and Japan don't want swamps and jungles. They want you—great, rich, sprawling Canada, rich with her endless wheat-bearing acres where a 'Herrenvolk' could lord it over a slave population; Canada with its great and untold wealth of unexploited raw material. Those are the goals of Nazi war—Canada, Brazil, Russia, the United States—the vast lands that lie amid untold resources, the lands with 'living room' for the 'super-race' that will allow YOU to become a new sort of white native to carry out their orders."

"Do you not see that wealth is not money... but a way of living?"

(ERIC KNIGHT)

Police Stores Case

Sold More Boots Than Received Witness Says

Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd. invoiced the province of B.C. from March, 1938, to Dec. 15, 1941, for $12,984.65 worth of police boots more than the company actually bought from the manufacturers, H. McL. Francis, accountant, final prosecution witness, told the Assize Court jury sitting under Mr. Justice Sidney Smith today.

He was giving evidence at the conspiracy to defraud trial of L. J. Simmons, former police quartermaster, and J. A. Walsh, managing director of the shoe company.

Mr. Francis was due for cross-examination by Joseph McKenna, counsel for Walsh, this afternoon. Unless that cross-examination created new developments, the crown indicated it would call no further witnesses.

Mr. Francis testified an examination of vouchers, invoices, books and other documents of the shoe company showed the provincial government had been invoiced by Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd. for more high and low boots than the company had during the period under review.

LISTS VALUES

Witness produced two schedules, one outlining quantities, the other values.

During the period, witness said, the company bought 521 pairs of high boots from the manufacturers and invoiced 960 pairs to the province and were paid for them. The difference of 439 pairs represented $5,967.65, witness said. The company bought 690 pairs of low boots from manufacturers and invoiced 1,587, showing a total of 897 more than it was in their power to supply. Values of the latter amount was placed at $7,017 by the witness, who combined the two to give the $12,984.65 total.

Mr. Francis also recapitulated evidence of other crown witnesses on receipt by the company of government cheques, as shown by the company's books, and the refund of the money in installments.

INSPECTED HOME

Replying to P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Simmons, witness testified he had inspected the Simmons' home with W. H. M. Haldane, commissioner who conducted the departmental inquiry, to determine whether or not it indicated Simmons was living beyond his income. Mr. Francis said there was no evidence the accused was exceeding the $425 income a month, he said, he was receiving in wages and in assistance from relatives.

Prior to adjournment, Sgt. C. Jacklin, provincial police, gave evidence on the seizure of certain of Cathcart's documents.

Earlier today E. A. Morris, auditor for Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd., was cross-examined by McKenna on the company's books. He said he assumed the company was cashing cheques for the provincial government. Walsh had given him no specific information on an item of $800. He further said, in examination on books of the company, he relied on the word of the bookkeeper in respect to sales entries.

There had been no change in the company's bookkeeping system since Walsh took over the store, he said.

Gold Mine Heads Ask B.C. Cabinet To Press Ottawa

The B.C. Government was asked today by the Mining Association of B.C. to press the federal government to keep the province's gold mines operating.

The cabinet, under Premier John Hart, listened attentively and promised to take the matter under sympathetic consideration.

Heading the delegation was F. W. Guernsey, vice-president of the association and president of Island Mountain Mine; W. D. Delle, managing-director, Sheep Creek; Russell Watson, director of Surf Inlet; D. S. Tait of Privateer; Dr. W. B. Burnett, president, Cariboo Quartz; A. E. Jukes, Gold Belt Mine, and H. Mortimer-Lamb, secretary-treasurer of the association.

The delegation asked the government's support of a letter written to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, asking that something be done to keep labor in B.C.'s gold mines.

"The mine labor situation at the gold mines is becoming so acute as to threaten suspension of operations within a short period of time," said a brief presented to the government. "This matter... is of concern to the provincial government, which is faced with considerable loss of revenue in consequence."

LABOR SHORTAGE

The brief pointed out that gold mines in recent months have lost labor to armed forces and war industries. After June 30 this situation developed alarmingly, when the National Selective Service issued an order prohibiting gold mines from employing labor of any kind until requirements of base metal mines had been satisfied.

The result was panic, the brief said, and many gold mine employees left, fearing complete closure. In the last year, the brief said, 13 B.C. gold mines have been closed. By the end of the year mines still in operation will have few crews left.

"At the present time none of the mines are able to carry on development operations, and production is being made from broken ore," said the brief. "The only hope for relieving the situation is the rescheduling of the National Selective Service order. The order, while doing great injury, has proved entirely ineffective in achieving its purpose—for example, at the two copper mines, instead of a gain, the payrolls actually showed a net loss at the end of September. Furthermore the order was grossly discriminating in that it was only applied to B.C. and Yukon and not to Ontario and Quebec, where gold mining is a major industry."

"All the major gold-mining companies in operation in B.C. are now actively engaged, at their own risk and expense, in the exploration for and development of strategic minerals, and are thus contributing to an important effort to the war effort. On that account alone it is highly important that their organizations should be kept intact."

Identify Victims Of Bomber Crash

Sgt. John Rowell of Wigan, Lancs, and Sgt. Henry James Thorne of Weston-Super-Mare, Somerset, were the two R.A.F. occupants of the medium, twin-engined bomber which crashed last Monday into the water northeast of Sidney Island while on a training flight from the

Film Acting Unimportant Says Douglass Montgomery

Lieut. Douglass Montgomery, U.S.N.R., Hollywood actor, producer and writer, drove up to the Empress Hotel in a taxi from the Seattle boat this morning, registered, and on reaching his room picked up the house phone and ordered double portions of kippered herrings and sausage with rationed trimmings.

"The only thing that interests me right now is eating," said the handsome 33-year-old actor. "I'm as hungry as a bear."

He is accompanied by his mother, Mrs. L. Smith Montgomery, and cousin, Thomas B. Wapamaker.

"I shall be here only a day or two, but I feel I am on a long and glorious vacation, and I intend to make the best of it," said Lieut. Montgomery.

"My mother and I have promised ourselves this trip to Victoria for a long time, and we intend to see everything we can of the city before we leave on Sunday."

Lieut. Montgomery trained at the Quonset naval air station, Rhode Island, and gained his commission last February. He wrote and directed the pageant, "The Story of a Sailor," feature of the Navy Week celebration at Seattle.

During his moving picture career, Lieut. Montgomery has been featured by Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, R.K.O., Universal and British Gaumont.

He was starred with Margaret Sullivan in "Little Man, What Now?" "Little Women," "Waterloo Bridge," and "The Life of Stephen Foster," in which he took the title role.

WANTED TO BE PRACTICAL Before joining the United States navy, he had left pictures and had gone back to the stage and also radio in New York.

"Since leaving Hollywood I have been devoting my time to writing and producing," said Lieut. Montgomery. "I always think of myself as being identified more with the legitimate stage than pictures. But all that doesn't seem so important now; it doesn't seem to matter. After all, the most important thing now is winning the war, and I like to think I am doing my little bit with the naval air arm of the service, and helping in the program for the entertainment of the fighting forces."

He chose the naval air arm in preference to the public relations branch, because he wanted to do something useful and practical. Lieut. Montgomery considers he has a link with Canada, for his father was born in Brantford, Ont.

One of the outstanding stage plays directed by Lieut. Montgomery is "Night Must Fall," starring Florence Reed and Violet Hemming, with which he toured eastern Canada.

HELPED PAY BILLS

"I am grateful to the pictures because they helped me to pay some of my debts, but I much prefer stage acting, writing and directing," he said.

Earlier in his acting career, Lieut. Montgomery went to London with the New York Theatre Guild and appeared in "Caprice" in St. James Theatre with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

As a playwright, he collaborated with Merton Hodge, author of "The Wind and the Rain" in the production of "Mr. Lochinvar."

Lieut. Montgomery admits he is sometimes confused with Robert Montgomery, who is now a lieutenant-commander in the U.S. navy.

"They are not related, but sometimes get each other's mail," Mrs. Montgomery, the lieutenant's mother, makes her home at Pasadena, Calif.

"Victoria has a lot in common with Pasadena and its people, I hear," said Lieut. Montgomery. "I know I am going to like it here."

City Officers Get Promotions

COL. HUGH ALLAN

Two Victoria officers, Col. H. R. W. Allan and Maj. W. H. Ruffel, are among five men to receive promotions, announced today by Pacific Command headquarters.

Col. Allan, who holds the appointment of A.A. and Q.M.G., has been promoted, from lieutenant-colonel to colonel. He has been promoted since the outbreak of the war and previously held a commission in the Non-permanent Active Militia. He served overseas with the Canadian Army in the First Great War.

Maj. Ruffel, who is with the district engineer's office, is promoted from captain. He has a long military record and is a permanent force officer. He has a son serving overseas with the R.C.A.F.

Three other officers to be promoted to the rank of colonel are Col. A. W. Black, district supply and transport officer, a permanent force officer; Col. Wallace A. Wilson, district medical officer, who was a prominent Vancouver physician before the war; and Col. W. G. Swahn, D.S.O., district engineer officer, a Vancouver officer, prominent in bridge and construction engineering before the war.

An invitation to participate in the Remembrance Day ceremonies at the War Memorial Nov. 11 was received by the City Council Thursday from J. A. Law Beattie, honorary secretary of the Remembrance Day Committee.

R.A.F. station at Patricia Bay, it was announced today.

The bomber, it is now believed, was flying low when it crashed and plunged into the deep water. No trace of the aircraft or of the bodies of the two victims has been found, and they are consequently listed officially as "missing, believed killed."

A memorial service is being arranged. Both men had been at Patricia Bay for six weeks.

Victory Loan Teams On Quiz Program

The Dollars for Scholars program over C.V.I. tonight at 7:30 will feature two teams drawn from the ranks of Victory Loan canvassers. The quiz program, while not emphasizing the Victory Loan, should develop on the air the rivalry which characterizes the friendly exchanges of canvassers of various districts.

The city of Victoria will be represented by Gordon Mason, Eldon Knott, Walter DuRussell, Jack Fuller and Arthur Jackson. Suburban Victoria will be represented by Eric Gimer and Dick Reeves from Oak Bay; H. R. Lumby from Esquimalt unit, and F. Lewis Chappell and Eric Townsend from Saanich.

Chiefs Warn Against 'Hallowe'en Pranks

Chiefs John A. McLellan and Alex Munro of the police and fire departments today advised Victoria children to hold Hallowe'en parties in their houses and stay off the streets Saturday night.

This Hallowe'en will be Victoria's first real wartime Hallowe'en, Chief McLellan points out, and there will be no bonfires or fireworks. For this reason there is no point in children roaming the streets Saturday night.

Th police chief emphasized that anyone caught causing property damage would be severely dealt with.

"This is wartime," the chief said, "and fences and gates cannot be replaced. We will deal severely with any vandalism."

Practically the entire force will be on duty for the traditional ghost night to guard against what so many just regard as pranks but under wartime conditions constitute serious infringements of the law.

Chief Munro said that anyone caught pulling fire boxes or causing false alarms in any other manner would be punished to the full extent of the law.

"Every unnecessary run of our equipment," the chief said, "means waste of gasoline and rubber. Anyone caught causing false fire alarms will be taken into police court."

SMITH—Ernest Washington Smith, 60, died at his home, 1515 Quadra Street. He was born in Kansas and had lived here five years. He is survived by two sons, Ernest Byrnes, Cadboro Bay, and Roger Robinson, now overseas; and three daughters, Mrs. Jean Pelley, Victoria; Mrs. E. J. Graham, Port Mellon, B.C.; and Mrs. C. L. Griston, Regina. The remains are at Sands Mortuary, where Rev. F. Pike will conduct the funeral service Saturday at 2. Interment at Colwood.

OBITUARY

Sgt. J. Petterson Dies Suddenly

Sgt. James L. Petterson, 2732 Blackwood Avenue, a member of the Victoria City Police Department for 21 years, died suddenly at 10:30 Thursday night.

Talking to Sgt. Thomas Hall, also of the force, at the corner of Fisgard and Douglas Streets, Sgt. Petterson collapsed. Rushed to the Jubilee Hospital in the police ambulance, he died on the way. Dr. T. W. Gray pronounced life extinct.

Sgt. Petterson, who was 48 years old, was born in Coghlan, in the Fraser Valley, and lived there until the outbreak of the last war, when he joined the Seaforth Highlanders in Vancouver. He served and was wounded overseas.

After the war he came to Victoria and in 1921 joined the police department as a constable. In June of 1936 he was promoted to the rank of sergeant. One of the most popular men in the department his sudden death was keenly felt by his fellow officers.

An athlete in his youth, Sgt. Petterson was actively interested in sport until his death. On the mainland, before the war, and in Victoria during the 1920's he was active in lacrosse. He played for senior teams both here and on the mainland. Through last summer he was manager of the Douglas Tire lacrosse team and the summer before was on the managerial staff of the Joker team.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Gloria, at home, and Mrs. C. J. Nast of this city; one son, Walter, overseas in the army; his mother, Mrs. J. Petterson, and a sister, Mrs. A. Jones, both of Vancouver.

Sands Mortuary Ltd. is in charge of funeral arrangements which will be announced later.

GUMMOW—Benjamin Franklin Gummow, 52, reeve of Peachland, B.C., died suddenly and his funeral was held at Kelowna this week. He was born at Denver, Colo., and lived in Winnipeg until 1889 when the family settled at Peachland. His father planted one of the first orchards there. In the last war he enlisted with the 72nd Highlanders, was gassed at Passchendaele and wounded at Amiens. Surviving are his wife, the former Stella E. Dykes, who is president of Women's Institutes for B.C.; one son, John, in the R.C.A.F.; one daughter, Noreen, at home, and two sisters, Mrs. R. Moore, Penticton, and Mrs. C. D. Clarke, Victoria.

McNAIR—Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns conducted the funeral services Thursday morning for Mrs. Ruth McNair, interment at Royal Oak. S. J. Curry & Son had charge.

MESSERSCHMIDT—The funeral service for Mrs. Mary Audrey Messerschmidt was held Thursday afternoon at Sands Mortuary. Rev. F. Conley officiated. Cremation at Royal Oak.

GOBLE—The death occurred at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday of Mrs. Jennie Goble, 49. Mrs. Goble was born in Fair Oak, Ind., and had resided in Saanich 11 years. She leaves four sons and four daughters in Canada, and two sisters in the United States. The remains are at the Sands Mortuary, where funeral services will be held Saturday at 3:30. Rev. N. E. Smith will officiate. Interment at Royal Oak.

BRADFORD—Margaret Eliza Bradford, 83, died Friday morning. Born in Lancashire, England, and a resident of Vancouver, she had lived here for two weeks. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. D. M. Munhall of Anacortes, Wash.; three sons, Sidney Lewis, Burquitlam, B.C., George Harold, Salem, Ore., and Alfred Arthur, Mellor Apartments, Broughton Street, 13 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. The service will take place Monday morning at 10:30 from McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel, Dean S. H. Elliott officiating. Interment at Royal Oak.

WOODFORD—The death occurred on Thursday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of Walter Henry Woodford, 76, of 423 Powell Street. Mr. Woodford was born in Devon, England, and had resided here for 21 years. He served with the Royal Navy in the Great War. He is survived by his widow, Margaret, three daughters, Mrs. A. J. Wademan of Vancouver, Mrs. Gladys Woodford of Lake Thelma, Alberta, and Mrs. H. R. McDonnell of Victoria; one son, Henry F. Woodford, one son, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren; one brother, William in Vancouver; one sister, Mrs. Annie Dickenson of Victoria; and nephews and nieces. The remains are at McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

City Man Had to Give Passage to Kurusu

Except for a chance occurrence, Ronald D. Gillespie of Victoria, one of the 274 civilians reported by the External Affairs Department to be interned by the Japanese at Hongkong, would be safely in Victoria today.

Before the outbreak of war in the Pacific, Mr. Gillespie booked passage by plane to return to Victoria for a holiday. He was forced at Manila to give up his seat to an unidentified diplomat. Mr. Gillespie returned to Hongkong. Shortly afterwards the Pacific War broke out.

It is understood by relatives in Victoria that Mr. Gillespie gave up his seat in the Pacific clipper plane to Saburo Kurusu, special Japanese envoy, who arrived in Washington, D.C., late in November, 1941, to talk peace, while the Japanese prepared for the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Gillespie and her two daughters came to Victoria before the outbreak of war. They are now living in the Barbadoes.

City Uninformed On Proposed Dimout

Mayor Andrew McGavin and the City Council war emergency committee were still "in the dark" today concerning the proposed dimout of the B.C. coast.

Having received no official orders about the proposed dimout, Mayor McGavin said he did not know what steps should be taken. He also said he was at a loss to

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Understand why, if Vancouver was in the war zone and thus on the same priority as Victoria for A.R.P. equipment, no dimout was being ordered there.

Mayor McGavin said apparently the Advisory Council of the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, which is preparing the dimout regulation, was also confused.

The announcement made Thursday by W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the Advisory Council, that the dimout, scheduled for Nov. 2, had been postponed, was causing difficulties here because city electricians were preparing to have street lights dimmed out for that date.

Having gone ahead with removing light globes from street lights, the city was now partly darkened for the dimout, which has not been called, he said.

The public was thus unnecessarily inconvenienced by the street light dimout before it was necessary, he said.

Port Arthur Cats On Hockey Tour

By CHARLES EDWARDS

TORONTO (CP)—Port Arthur Bearcats, who gave Ottawa R.C.A.F. Flyers a mighty battle in the Allan Cup hockey finals last spring, are contemplating a two-week barnstorming tour of eastern Canada because they are without competition in the Thunder Bay area this season. Most of the Bearcats are veterans. They have new talent such as Norm Larson, former Brooklyn Americans forward; Stan Robertson, one-time Fort William Cornwall and Quebec centre, and Jim Hill, Lakehead goalie.

Dick (Port Arthur News-Chronicle) Elliot says: "The squad couldn't miss being a tremendous drawing card, particularly in Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal, where the Cats won thousands of new friends last spring... Presumably plans for the tour do not mean that on their return home the Bearcats will be through with hockey and it may be that the trip will be arranged in such a way that shortly after their return the club will be ready for the more serious Allan Cup competition. In that event the tour would be not earlier than February."

Disunity Slowing War Effort—Holland

Stating that disunity in the United Nations slowed the war effort and obscured the ideals being fought for, Sir Robert Holland told the Kinsmen Club Thursday evening that handicaps must be overcome.

"There is also a demand to know what we are fighting for," the speaker said. "The common man will fight for an ideal, but most of them want to see a chart of the promised land now. In order that they might stake out their claims."

Sir Robert said that only fraternity of liberty, equality and fraternity could remain in the post-war world. He said liberty was going down before increased responsibilities, and equality was impossible because of the difference between races. Fraternity must be realized, the speaker said.

Sir Robert spoke at length on Japan's part in the war because of his long association with Oriental peoples. He reviewed Japan's relationship with the United States from the time Perry opened the Japanese islands. He said this relationship, in the opinion of Japanese, fully justified their attack on Pearl Harbor.

He said Japan had protected shipping routes, air-line carriers throughout the Pacific islands, and is fortified by the Great Barrier Reef. Her only threat is the route between the United States and Australia.

Because of that route, Sir Robert said, the Japs are more than anxious to win the battle of the Solomons and bring on a naval battle from which they expected to emerge victorious.

PLAZA THEATRE

Jean Parker is again playing one of her famous out-of-doors roles in "Girl From Alaska," now showing at the Plaza Theatre. It is a story of men turned killers by the lure of gold and a girl finding protection in the custody of a renegade.

CEILING UNLIMITED

Big R.C.A.F. Revue

Among the many highlights of Western Air Command's all-star revue, "Ceiling Unlimited," which will be staged at the Royal Victoria Theatre November 5, will be the sweet and hot arrangements of the R.C.A.F. Patricia Bay Orchestra.

Under the leadership of clarinetist, Sgt. Joseph Miceli, this 13-piece aggregation of musicians will be heard in numbers ranging from Bach to Boogie-Woogie.

Including such names as Bill Clayton on first trumpet, who prior to joining the air force, played for Matt Kenney; Darcy Howard, accomplished violinist and saxophone player who is well known throughout the prairie provinces in show business; Lance Harrison, popular tenor sax man, late of Ole O's Orchestra, Vancouver, who takes the spotlight with his composition and arrangement of the band's theme song, this talented musical group will be making its first show appearance in Victoria.

Featuring the smooth stylings of Glenn Miller and Artie Shaw, the Pat Bay Orchestra guarantees their brand of swing will more than satiate the appetite of the most ardent swing devotee on the night of November 5.

With a week to go, sale of tickets for the big show indicates a sell-out house.

RIO THEATRE

Florence Rice is the daughter of Grantland Rice, dean of American sports writers and one of the country's outstanding authorities on all branches of sport. Miss Rice comes to the Rio Theatre today in the leading feminine role of "Let's Get Tough," the new Monogram picture starring the East Side Kids.

CAPITOL THEATRE

When Gig Young kissed Geraldine Fitzgerald in a scene for Warner Bros. "The Gay Sisters," now at the Capitol Theatre, it was the first time he had delivered a screen osculation. All of Gig's previous film appearances had been in minor roles, so unimportant they didn't even get him together with a feminine player.

In the story, Gig is in love with Nancy Coleman, and Miss Fitzgerald, the more predatory of the three Gay sisters, is trying to take him away from her.

"Print that one," said Director Irving Rapper, after the first "take" of the kiss. "That was fine, Gig."

"Shucks!" muttered Young. "All day long it's do it over, do it over. Then something pleasant comes along — and all of a sudden I'm an expert!"

Wallace Beery demanded realistic effects in his role as a sergeant in "The Bugle Sounds," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer story of the new mechanized army, showing at the Cadet Theatre. As a patron of the army post restaurant operated by Marjorie Main, his fiancée in the story, Beery got the real thing for a breakfast scene. Steak, bacon and eggs, fruit, doughnuts, coffee and watermelon! Beery ate them and the scene was made in a single take. "If I blew a line in that one," he remarked, "it meant a retake—and I couldn't take any more!"

'CHARLEY'S AUNT' AT DOMINION

The audience at the Dominion Theatre today acclaimed Jack Benny's performance in the title role of "Charley's Aunt," the new 20th Century-Fox comedy.

Benny is the funniest lady in the land in this, his most hilarious screen role to date. He makes a very charming "glamour girl" as he is coy and then daring in the part of the collegian who poses as a woman to aid a classmate.

The comedy is aided by the fine supporting cast which includes Kay Francis, James Ellison, Edmund Gwenn, Anne Baxter, Reginald Owen, Aileen Whelan, Laird Cregar, Ernest Cossart, Richard Haydn and Morton Lowry.

YORK THEATRE

An amusing experience and the opportunity to play a completely new and different role was recently afforded Bela Lugosi whose latest starring vehicle "Devil Bat" is now playing at the York Theatre.

In Hollywood, scene of so many artistic and jealous feuds, the conduct of the leading horror men is a refreshing change from the usual pattern for these artists, rather than being envious of and embittered at each other are not only friendly, but thoroughly interested in each other's work. They never fail to see their rivals' pictures and their discussions later have helped each of them to improve their work which accounts for the amazing betterment of the quality of their type of production.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"From office boy to successful song writer" sounds like an Horatio Alger story, but it is actually true in the case of Ormond Ruthven of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sound synchronization department. His song, "Rendezvous in Rio," makes its debut in "I Take This Woman," co-starring Spencer Tracy and Hedy Lamarr, and now being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre. Ruthven conceived the idea of the new melody and took it to Gus Kahn, veteran song writer, who became enthusiastic over it, wrote the lyrics, and submitted the number to the studio. Its acceptance followed. Ruthven came to the studio as an office boy in 1924. He went from this to the sound department.

Dorothy Dix:

Where Do I Go From Here?
Is Asked by Many a War Bride

The wave of romantic and sentimental hysteria that has swept the country has left many a war bride and many an engaged girl wondering where she goes from here. What is she to do now that her bridegroom or her boy friend is back in the army and the glamour of a military wedding has begun to pale? A closer glance at her engagement ring makes it look as much like a fetter as it does a love token.

Ordinarily the course of the newlyweds or the nearlyweds is perfectly clear. The happy couple would be building their nest, buying furniture, swapping their bridal presents for something usable. Sweetums would be learning to cook and the bridegroom acquiring the art of eating what was set before him without asking questions or making comments.

Or the engaged girl would be flashing her diamond before the envious eyes of her friends and complacently congratulating herself that she had acquired a permanent date at last. She and the lad would be wasting reams of good paper figuring out how two can live cheaper than one and how to budget a beer income over cocktail habits and tastes.

But the war has knocked the old fairytale ending of the love idyl "and they married and lived happily ever afterward" into smithereens. There is no settling down now, no finality, no security about the war marriage. Oftener than not the bride has to spend her honeymoon alone. The engaged girl knows that at best she has only an option on her sweetheart's heart instead of an iron-bound contract giving her full ownership of him.

WHAT IS SHE TO DO?

What, then, is a girl to do who finds herself on this hot spot? Is she to put in her time for the duration weeping over Johnny's picture and writing him letters salted down with the brine of her tears, or is she to find all the excitement and diversion she needs in knitting sweaters?

Neither plan sounds feasible, for the modern girl is a poor weeper and seldom has a passion for needlework. Moreover, she is accustomed to a full life in which there is something doing all the time, with plenty of dates and parties. This prospect of spending long evenings at home brooding over the absent loved one, or knitting two and purling three doesn't seem an alluring prospect, yet what the ethical and social Emily Post of the situation is she doesn't know.

If she is a married woman she can't run around with her old crowd without being talked about and having some old cat feel it her or his sacred duty to write her husband about it, and no matter how broad husbands' views are concerning the conduct of other men's wives she can gamble on them not being elastic enough to include her having a little pleasure on the side while her man is away fighting for his country.

No matter how platonic her feelings are toward Tom, Dick and Harry, the engaged girl cannot step out with them without rousing jealous emotions in her fiancé's heart. About one million draftees have written me asking if we can risk our lives to protect the women we love why can't they sacrifice a few dances for us?

LEARN A TRADE

Still and all, the girls who are used to action must have something to do while waiting for Johnny to come marching home from the war. My earnest suggestion to them is to get busy and learn a trade if they have none, and if they have one, to redouble their efforts to perfect themselves in it. Work is the greatest time killer that has ever been devised. It is the only panacea for fear and anxiety and heartache. And to possess a skill that is marketable is the only insurance that any woman can take out now against the future.

Would to God that every woman's man may come home from the war safe and sound and faithful to her, but this we know cannot happen. Many a husband and sweetheart may not come home. Many another will return shattered in body and so nerve-wrecked by the experiences he has been through that he will not be able to take up his business or profession where he left it. Many a fortune will be swept away in the havoc of war, and then it is going to be a mighty handy thing for the woman of a family to know how to make a living and be able to support the family until her husband can get on his feet again.

The men of this country are fighting the war now, but after the war the women will have to fight the battle of peace with poverty and changed conditions and sickness for their foes. They should begin training themselves for the conflict now.

So I urge every woman whose man has gone to the war to wipe her eyes and roll up her sleeves to get busy learning some way to make a living. It will be her salvation mentally, spiritually and financially.

Asia and South America Lead World in Tall Mountains

Can you name a continent with no mountains on it?

The answer is "No." Every continent has mountains. Even if we count "Antarctica" as a continent, we find mountains of a sort there, covered with snow and ice. Some parts of the Antarctic continent rise to a height of almost two miles.

Caravan moving past base of Rases Sufsafeh, also called "Mount Sinai."

Asia has the tallest mountains in the world. Four peaks of Asia—all in the Himalaya Mountains—are more than five miles above sea level. Mount Everest is one of these four, and its height is 29,141 feet.

Next to the peaks of Asia come those of South America. Five peaks in the Andes are more than four miles tall. Chief of them is Aconcagua, which reaches up almost four and a half miles.

Thanks to two very tall peaks, North America ranks third among the continents. It has Mt. McKinley in Alaska, with a height of almost four miles. Below it come Mt. Logan, the tallest in Canada, and Mt. Whitney, the tallest in the United States.

Africa does not have many tall mountains, but one peak there is taller than anything in Europe or Australia. It is known as Kilimanjaro.

The mountains of Europe rank next in height, and last among the inhabited continents is Australia. The tallest Australian peak rises a bit less than one and a half miles.

Most of the fame of mountains has come from their size, but some peaks are known for other reasons. Quite a number are noted because they have active volcanoes.

One important volcano mountain is Mt. Vesuvius. It is less than three-fourths of a mile high, but it is known all over the earth. Dozens of times it has broken loose with big eruptions. The ancient Romans had a legend that their gods had made war on and around Mt. Vesuvius.

The Bible gave fame to a mountain in the Sinai Peninsula. This peninsula juts into the northern end of the Red Sea, and we are told that Moses led the "children of Israel" across it.

"Mt. Sinai" is believed to be the peak which now bears the name of Rases Sufsafeh, but this is not certain. In the Bible we read that Moses went up the slopes of Sinai and stayed on the mountain for some time, then returned to his people with the Ten Commandments.
